

New Haliburton industry avoids pitfalls that keep others away

Allan Espie punches a frame member

by Sue Cooper

Haliburton's newest industry has not fallen into the normal pitfalls which hinder most ideas from getting off the ground. It has not sat idly by waiting for government grants to fund its operation; it has not been plagued by transportation problems and it has not threatened to endanger the area's natural beauty.

What Haliburton Machine and Manufacturing's new greenhouse manufacturing plant has done is provide an initial four new jobs in the community in a season when those jobs are desperately needed and it might also have opened the door for small, clean industry to start locating in the area.

Amazing as it might sound, the idea for manufacturing the greenhouses in the area came from a cottager who approached Murray Burton, owner of the machine shop last year.

After the initial contact with the cottager, Burton found himself with an order to manufacture 100 greenhouse units on a trial basis. Luckily, because of his involvement with Haliburton Machine, Burton had the basic tools needed for bending the galvanized steel frames.

"Once they found it was a worthwhile proposition, they went ahead," Burton said.

With a contract to manufacture the greenhouses, it was necessary to move to a new shop which would be cleaner than the existing machine shop, Burton said. In mid-February the fledgling manufacturing industry moved into the old Curry Motors body shop on Mountain Street, beside the Royal Canadian Legion.

"It's certainly nice and clean," Burton says as he looks around the new shop.

When the operation was set up, cleanliness was considered a high priority since the white boxes the greenhouse kits are shipped in, will be stocked on shelves of retail stores across the province and possibly across the country.

The little factory manufactures the greenhouse frames and packages the unit for sale to stores, Burton said. The galvanized steel, which is supplied by a distributor who had previously dealt with Burton, through the machine shop, is dropped off at the plant's side door.

'When it leaves it's ready for sale'

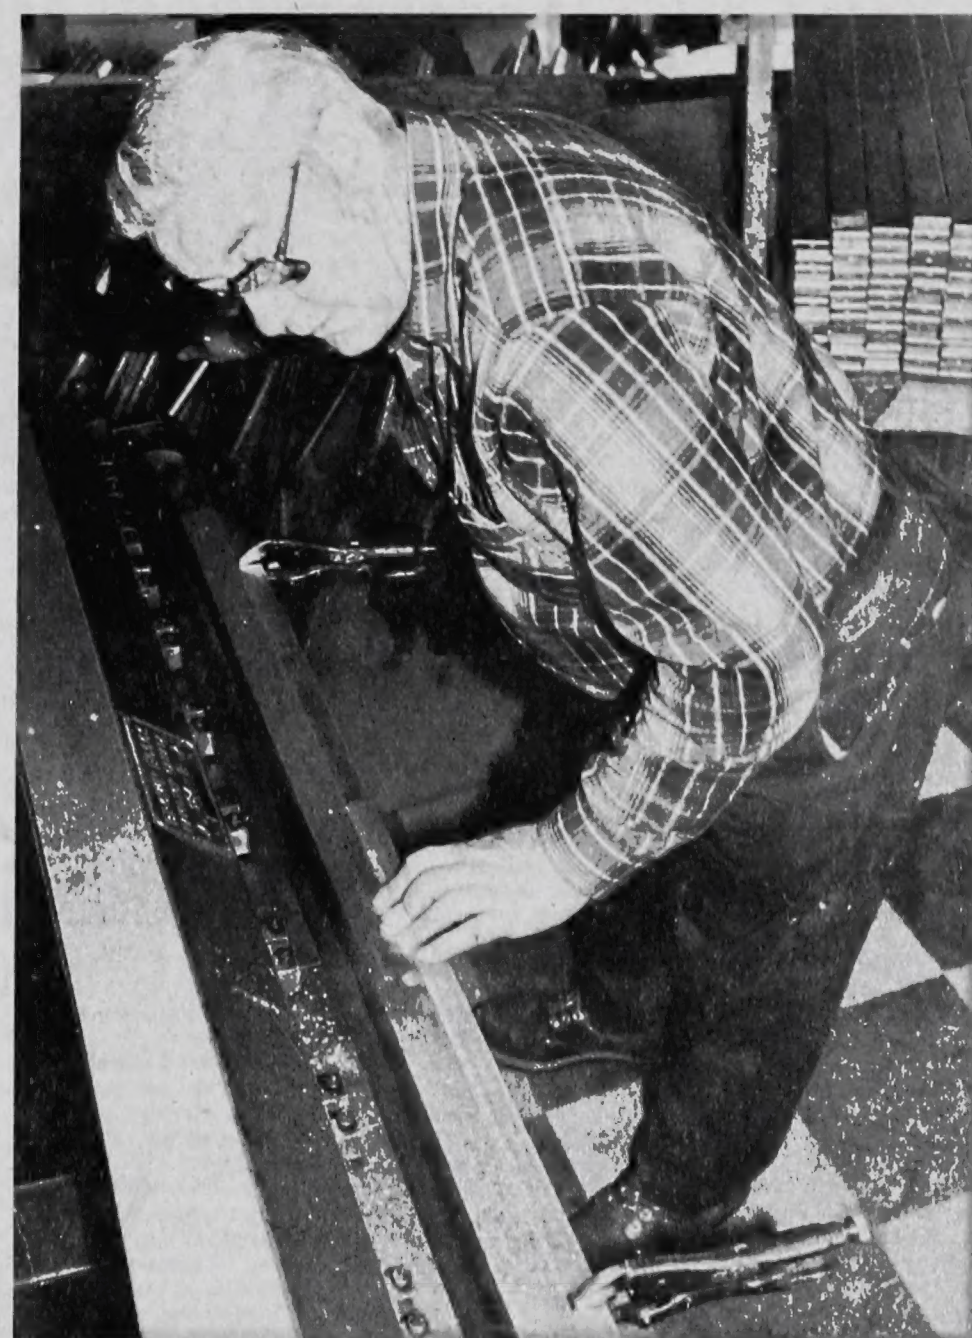

The steel, which must be of high quality, is cut, punched and bent before it starts to look like a greenhouse frame. The whole greenhouse is made of 13 pieces of metal, thick plastic sheeting as well as the usual accompaniment of glue, nuts and bolts and adhesive material.

"When it leaves here it's ready for sale," Burton said.

After purchasing a greenhouse, the consumer can have it set-up between a half hour and an hour, if you allow the glue to set, Burton said.

The steel frame measures 44 inches square at the base and, as Burton says happily, you can put as many units together as you want. Once the frame is set-up, thick plastic covers the unit to let

Concern centre now reaching out

Haliburton's Community Christian Concern Centre was officially opened Sunday afternoon in a brief ceremony attended by close to 100 people.

The centre, located in a two storey brick house beside the Liquor Control Board outlet on the village's main street, is a joint project of local churches, who have banded together in what they term "an historic venture" to reach out to the community. It houses a Christian book store, a lounge for young people, a lounge for senior citizens, an all-purpose room, a kitchen, an upstairs room for prayer and Bible study, and a ministers' counselling office.

Cost of renting the house is being borne jointly by the operators of the book store and the local churches.

A minister from one of the local churches will be on duty three hours each morning, from 9 a.m. to noon for counselling services.

Dysart et al reeve and county warden Murray Fearrey, who cut the ribbon to officially open the centre, dubbed "The 4 C's", brought best wishes on behalf of the municipality. Later, in a brief speech, he commended the churches on their initiative, noting that the centre should be an asset to the community, particularly if it is successful.

Race gets OSRF okay, dry land track likely

Snowmobile racing in Haliburton County will move into the big leagues later this year when the first Ontario Snowmobile Racing Federation sanctioned race of the season is held at a site that has yet to be established.

Race organizer Pat Kennedy said permission for the race, tentatively scheduled for December 12 and 13, was given at meeting of the OSRF in Orillia last Wednesday.

The move to a sanctioned race has been considered in the past, Kennedy said, but problems this year with poor weather and the ice track on Head Lake provided the final impetus.

Under the scheme proposed by Kennedy and race co-chairman Bob English, a permanent dry land track would be established near Haliburton village. The track would be a half mile long, with 10 degree banking in the corners to conform with OSRF standards, and would be ringed with plywood barriers for the protection of drivers and spectators.

The track is expected to be built in one of two unused gravel pits east of Haliburton owned by the Municipality of Dysart et al. A formal request for use of the pits will be made at council's April meeting. The municipality will also be asked to carry out some of the machine work that will be needed to create the track, Kennedy said in an interview Tuesday.

Funding for the track and a grandstand to seat spectators, is expected to come from corporate sponsorship, grants, and from admission

Illahee Northwoods on Drag Lake chosen as location for new scheme

Dialysis camp to be largest of its kind

by Sue Cooper

Haliburton County will become the site of the largest satellite dialysis unit for children in North America when Camp Dialasun opens this summer.

The camp, operating at Camp Illahee Northwoods on Drag Lake, will allow 45 to 50 children suffering from kidney disease to enjoy camp life for two weeks beginning on July 9, camp coordinator Michael Beirne, of the Kidney Foundation of Canada, said Tuesday.

The camp will be the third of its kind in Canada but Camp Dialasun in Haliburton will be "by far the largest and most sophisticated," Beirne said.

Camp Illahee, operated by the Metro Toronto Family Services Association, presently serves children between the ages of eight and 17 who suffer from medical problems. During normal camp activities, five or six medical staff are on hand but when Camp Dialasun is operating an additional 18 medical staff members will be required. A Nephrologist (kidney specialist), 14 dialysis nurses and three medical technicians will be on hand to help the children with their treatment, Beirne said.

Children attending the camp will be suffering from end stage renal disease involving total and complete failure of the kidneys, Beirne said. Some children might have received transplants and require frequent examinations to discover kidney failure or body rejection. Others might require peritoneal dialysis which is a filtration of the blood through a filter by normal body functions to clean the toxic waste. The most severe cases will require mechanical dialysis five to nine hours every second day to cleanse the blood.

While the dialysis machines are the most important aspect of Camp Dialasun, they also create a problem because of special plumbing and electrical needs, Beirne said.

The camp needs a 1200 to 1400 foot square building to house the three machines it owns and the three additional machines which will be borrowed from hospitals for the two weeks.

With the need for a building, the cost of the camp is over $100,000, which organizers hope to raise through donations from the general

Turnout 'average' at advance polls

The advance polls in the Victoria-Haliburton riding recorded an average turnout, according to the returning officer.

During the three days, last Thursday, Saturday and Monday, 1,437 voters turned out to mark their ballots, Kaye Boyd said Tuesday.

Advance polls were held in Minden, Haliburton, Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon and Lindsay.

Terms of reference to be drafted Minden council plans zoning by-law update

Anson, Hindon and Minden council may have taken its first positive step towards providing better planning guidelines in the municipality. At council's regular meeting last Wednesday, the Ministry of Housing was authorized to draft terms of reference for a major update of the restricted area By-law 14-67.

Pat Vanini, planner with the Ministry of Housing, presented council with the advantages and disadvantages of undertaking a major update or writing a new by-law, at council's regular meeting last Wednesday.

While the cost of a major update and a new by-law would be similar, Vanini said final costs would depend largely on the consultants who are hired to complete the work.

Updating the existing by-law could be advantageous since the staff are accustomed to working with the document, Vanini said.

However, the updated by-law might be confusing for the public to deal with since they would have to delve through two documents at once to have a total understanding of the restricted area by-law, Vanini told council.

It might also be difficult for the public to understand where an amendment made five years ago fits into the new update and this might also create problems if future consolidation of the two documents was considered, Vanini said.

On the other hand, Vanini said, the new by-law would be "very applicable to the municipality." It probably would not require the number of amendments needed to keep the old by-law 14-67, in working order since many changes in legislation have taken place since 1967 when the original by-law was written.

Vanini also pointed out that the old by-law doesn't take into consideration the county's development strategy which councils are expected to use as a planning basis in their municipalities.

Council's set their pay for the coming year

While some area councils will be upping their rates of remuneration this year, other councils are still doing municipal work for the same wages as last year.

Last Wednesday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council granted raises to council members. The reeve's wage of $4,250 will remain the same as last year but the expense allowance will be increased $250 to $1,000. The deputy-reeve will receive $3,500, up from $2,875 and his expense allowance will be increased to $750 from $575. Councilors also get an increase of $375 bringing their remuneration to $3,000 per year while expenses increased $25 to $550. Councilors living outside the village of Minden receive 22 cents per mile for all council meetings they must attend. These usually amount to four meetings per month.

Snowdon also raised its remuneration this term. Last year the reeve received $1,100 while he'll get $2,000 this year. The deputy-reeve will be paid $1,800, up $800 and councilors' wages were increased to $1,600 from $900.

Midgets lose two, must win to stay alive

Haliburton Midgets must win at home this Friday to keep their hopes alive in their provincial semi-final match against Havelock. Last Friday, before a home town crowd at the Dysart arena, the Midgets came close, but lost a 6-4 decision in the final minutes. Sunday in Havelock, they failed to connect and went down to defeat 8-2.

attending the camp. Beirne said. He estimated the cost would be approximately $2,000 per child.
Beirne said he hopes the contracting of the building can be done locally to keep the Haliburton community involved.
"I want to make it a local effort as much as a national effort," Beirne said.
With children coming from across the country, as well as the staff, the camp organizers have incorporated a bilingual program to include about six or eight children who are French, Beirne said.
Camp activities will be duplicated every second day to include the 24 children who will spend five to nine hours on the dialysis machines, Beirne said.
"Children on dialysis miss every second day of camp," Beirne explained.
Since they also miss activities at home because of the dialysis treatments, the organizers have tried to include them in every event, Beirne said.
However, some children are not able to participate in activities like swimming because of the dialysis shunts permanently placed in their veins, Beirne said.

Councils set 1981 pay rate

In Monmouth, council members received a 10 per cent raise across the board. The reeve's remuneration is $3,146, the deputy-reeve will receive $2,904 and councillors are awarded $2,530.
Also increasing their remuneration this year were council members in Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone. The reeve's pay has been increased to $3,400 from $3,100, the deputy-reeve will receive $3,000 up from $2,700 and councillors will get $2,900 from $2,600.
The other municipalities have not discussed raising their remuneration or have chosen not to.
In Cardiff councillors are being paid the 1980 rates which were raised eight per cent that year. The reeve receives $2,592 per year, the deputy-reeve is paid $1,944 and councillors get $1,296.
In Dysart et al council is paid on the 1979 rate. The reeve's wage is $4,500, the deputy-reeve receives $3,500 and council members are paid $3,000.
Lutterworth and Glamorgan reeves are equal at $2,700 and their deputy-reeves receive $2,500. Glamorgan's councillors get $2,300 and Lutterworth council members receive $2,400.
Glamorgan council raised its rate in 1980 while Lutterworth hasn't upped council wages since 1977.
Stanhope is the other municipality which hasn't raised its rates in 1981. The reeve receives $2,800, the deputy-reeve is paid $2,450 and councillors are allotted $2,000 for the year's work. All council members receive $600 in expenses.

fees, Kennedy said.
A number of companies have already indicated a willingness to participate in the project, and presentations will be made to other potential sponsors over the next few months, Kennedy indicated.
Although only one firm racing date has so far been set, at least one other sanctioned race is likely before the end of next winter if all goes well.

in reaching out to the area's young people.
Pastor John Smith of Lakeside Baptist Church, secretary of the Haliburton Ministerial Association, described the centre as "a dream come true" for him and other area ministers, who had been searching for a way to work together for the benefit of the community.
Others who took part in the ceremonies were Rev. Trevor Denny of St. George's Anglican Church, Rev. John James of Haliburton United pastoral charge, Pastor Mervyn Kurtz of the Gospel Lighthouse, Pastor Rick Brewster of the Allsaw Pentecostal Church, and Lieutenant Ron Mailman of the Salvation Army.
A board of directors representing participating churches has been established to oversee activities at the centre. A number of program possibilities, including noon hour bible studies, are under consideration, and ideas will be implemented as they come in from the community.
A young people's committee has also been established, and will concentrate its efforts on providing programs and activities to meet the needs of the community's youth.
The centre is "really just a place for them (young people) to gather and feel cared about," according to Rev. Trevor Denny. "We don't know exactly where it's going. We just need to see where the kids respond and go in that direction."
A coffee house is one approach that the young people's committee is exploring, Rev. Denny said in an interview Tuesday.
The house will also be available to community oriented groups for meeting purposes, he said.
Although the centre is just beginning to define its role in the community, the response to the 4 C's idea "has been tremendous" the Anglican church minister said.

BIA board tentatively appointed

Minden's BIA is now a reality. The only step left to be taken is the appointment of the board of management.
At its regular meeting last Wednesday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council received official notice from the Ontario Municipal Board that the business improvement area would be allowed if an equal number of objectors as well as those in favour of the plan could sit on the board.

Council chose seven names from the petitions which circulated in the town last year. Of those seven names, three in favour of the plan and three objectors will sit as well as one council member.
Those businessmen chosen by council will be asked if they will sit on the board.

The weather:

Is it winter or spring?

The weather continued to fluctuate somewhere between winter and spring over the past week, and no change is likely for the rest of this week.
Highest temperature recorded over the period of March 9 to 16 was 6C, on Sunday, March 15. While the lowest, -20C was recorded early Saturday morning, March 14.
A total of 10 cm. of snow fell over the period, and depths range from a trace to 20 cm.
Snowmobiling and cross country skiing are still possible in the northern reaches of the county, but conditions remain very poor in the rest of the county.
Little change in the pattern of warm and cold weather is expected this week, with some wet snow likely on Wednesday and cooler temperatures predicted for Thursday and Friday.

Cardiff holds March session

Cardiff Township council considered the following matters at its March session.
The matter of attempting to obtain Quit Claim deeds to part of Lot 9, Concession 13, north of the road allowance between Concessions 12 and 13 for the township and Thomas and Bessie Foster, was postponed until a written report on the matter is received from the township's solicitor. When the report is received, the matter will be decided by council.
Council agreed to proceed with an exchange of lands between the Cheddar Hunt Club Inc. and the township, as described in a letter from R. Burgess, solicitor for hunt club, dated February 26, 1981. The exchange will be for lands situate in Lot 9, Concession 12 and will clarify the township's deed limits as described in Instrument No. 1417, namely the southern limit of said deed. All costs are to be borne by the Cheddar Hunt Club Inc. The township will consult a solicitor before proceeding.
Debbie Donaldson was appointed as a member of the Township of Cardiff recreation committee for the year of 1981.

clear stone, subject to ministry approval.
Council advised the Minister of Natural Resources that it supports the position of the Ontario Humane Society regarding the introduction of a licensing system that would authorize certain individuals and groups to keep wildlife in captivity. The Ontario Humane Society's position is against such licensing, and is stated in a letter dated February 17, 1981 addressed to the township. This resolution and the letter shall be submitted to the minister for consideration.
The matter of discussion regarding work to be performed at the township recreation centre in Highland Grove was postponed until the next meeting, pending a report by councillors, Hughey and Irwin.
The clerk-treasurer was instructed to return, when received, a cheque from the Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs in the amount of $187.99 which represents the township's 1981 subsidy reduction regarding the Crowe Valley Conservation Authority.

ity 1981 levy to the municipality.
Council member, Mack Peters was authorized to attend the annual meeting of the Madawaska Valley Veterinary Services Committee. The township will contribute $100 to the said committee for the year of 1981.
Deputy reeve, M. Peters was appointed as a representative of the township on the Red Cross Society, Bancroft branch.
Council confirmed Section 5.6 of By-law 9-79, as amended and further confirmed that for the purposes of this section, a "telephone company" is considered as a "public authority".
Council stated that it intends to amend Comprehensive Zoning By-law 9-79, as previously amended, as follows: New Sections added: Section 10.1.11 A single family dwelling on one lot; Section 10.1.12 A single family vacation dwelling on one lot; Section 10.2.7 Regulations for uses permitted in Sections 10.1.11 and 10.1.12: Minimum Floor Area - 55 sq. ft.

Minden plans by-law update

Council will have to decide if it can live with the old by-law and act accordingly in making the decision, Vanini said.
"We (the Ministry of Housing), would probably recommend council write a new by-law," Vanini said.
Councilor Lyle McKnight agreed with Vanini that By-law 14-67 was becoming useless to the municipality since the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) would not approve of subdivisions based on the by-law's regulations.
"The first thing they look at is 14-67 (the code indicating the by-law was written in 1967)," McKnight said.
If council decided action was to be taken, Vanini said it would take about a year to write a by-law although some have been known to "drag on" for three years.
When council made its decision, Vanini said council would be able to use the proposed re-writing of OMB hearings as a sign of council's intentions for the future.
"It will be good evidence," she said.
With the actual costs of both the update and the new by-law approximately the same, Vanini said up to a 60 per cent grant would be available to the municipality.
Council passed a motion later in the meeting to have Vanini set out the terms of reference.

Minden council holds meeting

At its most recent meeting, Anson, Hindon and Minden council considered the following matters:

A Mr. MacGregor of the Minden Rotary Club was present to request council's assistance with providing parking facilities for the weekend of June 13 when the International Kayak races will be held. Arrangements will be made for the townships to enter into an agreement with the Orillia Water, Light and Power Commission for permission to prepare a parking lot on their property in Lot 9, Concession 5, Township of Minden. The draft agreement is to be prepared for the next council meeting. Also, the club requested that portable toilets be provided by the municipality again for that event.

By-law 81-17, a by-law to regulate and control places of amusement within the limits of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, was passed.

Doug Pritchard recorded a nay vote.

Policy #40 regulating recreational establishments was approved and entered into the Book of Policies.

J. Shapiera approached council regarding his application to operate a recreational establishment.

Council approved the issuance of a licence to Joseph Shapiera to operate a recreational establishment pursuant to By-law 81-17 and policy #40. Approval is for a maximum of 10 machines.

Mrs. Mae Wolfrain attended council regarding her husband's application to operate a recreational establishment. Council approved the issuance of a licence to Don Wolfrain of Mae's Country Mart to operate a recreational establishment pursuant to By-law 81-17 and policy #40. Approval is for a maximum of 10 machines.

Mrs. Pat Vanini of the Ministry of Housing, Community Planning, Advisory Branch was present regarding a major update or the preparation of a new zoning by-law for the municipality and explained the grant which is available to councils. Resolution #81-81 was passed.

Council will request supplementary allocation from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for 1981 in the amount of $94,250.

P.W.D. accounts for the month of February were approved in the amount of $26,942.17.

Council had received an application for a building permit on parcel 14LY being part of a proposed subdivision on Lots 1 and 2, Concession 5, Township of Minden; but the parcel did not comply with the provisions of restricted area By-law 14-67 with respect to frontage on a publicly maintained road; therefore council resolved that it did not agree to issue a building permit for parcel 14LY.

The clerk was directed to prepare an amendment to the water system by-laws regulating water consumption rates as follows: (a) Discounted discounts on pre-payments for both commercial and domestic users. (b) A flat rate minimum monthly amount of $7.05 shall apply to all users. (c) Commercial users shall be increased pursuant to a schedule reviewed by council.

Council will request the Ministry of Housing to prepare draft terms of reference for a major update to By-law 14-67 as amended for a proposal call from various consultants.

By-law 81-18, a by-law to regulate the rates or remuneration of certain employees of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden, was passed.

By-law 81-19, a by-law to amend By-law 75-48 being a by-law to regulate the hours of work, vacation allowances, sick leave and other benefits for all employees of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden, was passed.

By-law 81-20, a by-law, to provide for expense allowances for members of council, was passed.

By-law 81-21, a by-law to establish the rates of remuneration for members of council, was also passed.

ial, provided all necessary construction permits are obtained.

Council confirmed By-law No. 19-80 as stands and same will be filed with the Ontario Municipal Board for final approval. By-law No. 19-80 amends township zoning By-laws 9-79 and 18-79, as previously amended, the Ministry of Housing has not objected to By-law No. 19-80.

A by-law to provide for remuneration and expenses for member of council, certain local boards and expenses for employees was passed.

A by-law to regulate the design, licensing and operation of campgrounds within the township for camping vehicles and camping tents and all variations thereof was passed.

Resolution Number 8, dated January 8, 1981 was rescinded. Said resolution has been replaced by By-law 9-81.

The following accounts were authorized for payment: General Voucher #81-2, $5,753.36 and Roads Voucher #81-2, $88,450.74, which includes $69,978. payment in full for the purchase of a new Caterpillar M920 front-end loader.

Vehicles roll over

Three vehicles rolled over and were extensively damaged, and a fourth was destroyed by fire in a series of mishaps around the county last week.

Last Monday morning on Highway 503 near Ironton, a Volkswagen driven by Owen Mintz, 44, burst into flames as it was being towed by a second car driven by Carol Mintz, 42.

The Volkswagen was destroyed.

A Stouffville man escaped injury last Tuesday when his '79 car rolled over north of Kilmount. Elgin Wagg, 69 was northbound on Highway 121 when he lost control of his car and it rolled over.

Councillors suggestions could aid deficit Minden alters water rates

Minden's water system may be able to break even and possibly pay off some of its deficit this year after recommendations made by councillor Ed Pergolas were approved last Wednesday.

At the regular council meeting, Pergolas presented a prepared brief to council concerning the water system problems.

Pergolas suggested the municipality discontinue giving discounts on accounts that are prepaid, set a minimum flat rate for all users, install water meters on commercial businesses rated at using over 25 units, consider rebates for senior citizens and scrutinize commercial rates on an individual basis.

Council agreed to discontinue the discounts as well as setting a minimum flat rate of $7.05 per month per user. After a lengthy discussion council adjusted many of the commercial rates to reflect the type of business the water system served.

"They have to be adjusted when a car wash is paying less than a household," Pergolas said.

Although council discussed the possibility of giving seniors a rebate on their water payments, and seemed in favour of the idea, no formal decision was made.

Council compared figures with many other villages of the same size to make sure the rates were not out-of-line.

OPP find stolen vehicles

Two stolen vehicles were recovered by Minden OPP last week.

A '78 Bronco which had been stolen from Ian Martin of Rexdale was recovered after a Minden area resident reported seeing it abandoned on a little used road in Stanhope Township.

The vehicle had been vandalized, its windows and lights were smashed and a radio was missing.

A car stolen from Minden's main street early Sunday morning was recovered nearby a short time later.

Police say Brent Katzmier, 20, of Richmond Hill came out of a Minden hotel at 1:30 a.m. and discovered that his 1973 Pontiac had been stolen.

At 2 a.m. the car found on Newcastle Street where it had collided with a parked 1968 car owned by Walter Alrutz of Minden.

Both vehicles were extensively damaged.

The incident remains under investigation.

Plans underway to provide parking for kayaking event

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is hoping the municipality can provide adequate parking for spectators at the white water kayak and canoe races at Horseshoe Rapids this year.

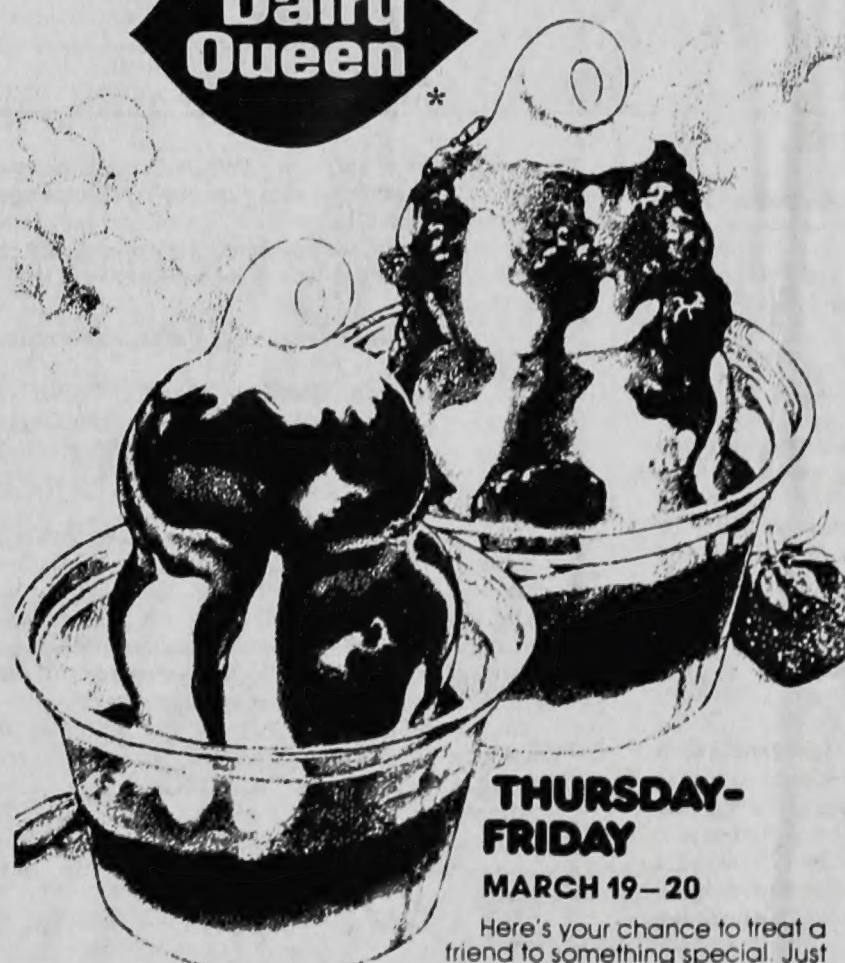

Jack MacGregor, Minden Rotary's representative to the wild water preserve development, asked the township if it would agree to lease the land from Orillia Water, Light and Power for a 200-car parking area.

While council agreed to lease the property it also agreed to improve the road to the area and clear out the brush and small trees.

MacGregor told council he would be meeting with representatives from Orillia Water, Light and Power later in the week to finalize the details of the lease. MacGregor intimated to council that the lease agreement price would probably be nominal.

Make your choice

The campaigning is over. The promises have been made; the plans for the future have been unveiled. What remains is the most important part of the process - the casting of the ballots.

For the last several weeks the leaders of the three parties, and the men who follow them in this riding, have been seeking the people's support. And it is clear that they have sought it on different grounds.

Bill Davis' Conservatives tell us that we must help them "keep the promise" of Ontario, though what that promise is, and why it has yet to be fulfilled by 38 years of Conservative government, is not fully explained. With slick ads and a catchy jingle, the Conservatives have gone after the emotional side of human nature, the side that wants to hope, that wants to feel good about what the next few years have to offer. They have offered politics not of facts but of feelings.

The Liberals have tried to appeal to reason. They have told us that Stuart Smith cares, that despite his coolly articulate nature, he understands what the ordinary man feels. The Liberals have attacked the state of the province's economy, claiming that it has never been worse. They have presented a scheme to reduce dependence on oil imports by funding the production of alcohol from wood products, a scheme which may have particular appeal in this area, with its rich forest resources. But voters may be leery of the costs, and of the speed with which Smith says he could move to compel car manufacturers to produce dual fuel cars. And a suggestion that the facilities of Chrysler Corporation of Canada could be purchased by the province for the production of alcohol fueled car carries with it the spectre of the Bricklin fiasco.

NDP leader Michael Cassidy has hammered away at the issues of job creation, an industrial policy and the weaknesses of the Ontario Health Insurance Plan. But his campaign has, in the eyes of many commentators, lacked fire, and his party seems unlikely to gain much ground at the polls on Thursday.

Voters in this riding must choose either to support an incumbent with a proven record of service both to the riding and to the province as a whole; to opt for a member on what promises to be the government side in hopes that doing so will bring tangible benefits; or to vote NDP as a protest against the policies of both the major parties.

The decision is an individual one that should be made with care. Once made, it should be translated into an "X" at the ballot box. Voting is a right, but it should also be viewed as an obligation.

Reaching out

The opening of the Community-Christian Concern Centre in Haliburton Sunday afternoon was, as one minister noted during the ceremony, "an historic occasion". It marked the first time the community's churches have banded together on a single major project aimed at the community as a whole.

The idea behind the centre is a sound one. The churches were looking for a way to reach out to the community - to make their presence known seven days a week in a casual environment, away from the formalities of Sunday services. They recognized that many of the community's young people needed a place where they could meet in a relaxed atmosphere without pressure to accept a certain viewpoint. And the churches also felt that many seniors would welcome a place to take a break from shopping or to wait for friends. The 4C's, as it has been dubbed, should fill all those needs.

Most importantly, the centre should be a new means of bringing the churches' message of concern to people who might otherwise not have heard it. It is a welcome addition to the village, and deserves the support of everyone with an interest in the future.

A new approach

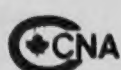

Anson, Hindon and Minden council took the first step toward better planning last Wednesday when it agreed that terms of reference should be drafted for a zoning by-law revamping. The municipality's by-law has been in effect since 1967, and as the results of recent Ontario Municipal Board hearings have amply demonstrated, the by-law is out-dated.

Council has two choices. It can update the old by-law, passing amendments that will in effect create two documents. Or it can scrap the old by-law and begin again with a view to arriving at one by-law to serve the zoning needs of the whole municipality.

Clearly, the latter course is the one that makes the most sense.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

As the second season for the Haliburton Gymnastic Club comes to an end we would like to take this opportunity to thank teachers Laura Aymong and John Fitzgerald, along with the many coaches, for their interest, dedication and time in developing this great sport.

It was so gratifying to see the children perform and apply their skills with strength and agility on the various types of apparatus at their Monday night demonstration.

We as parents should be truly proud to have a gym club of this calibre in Haliburton. With eagerness we look forward to a third great gym season in September.

Michael and Lynda Easton,

To the Editor:

The quality of writing and relevance of topic choice in your recent article on heating with wood offer a solid explanation for the accumulation of awards for excellence in the Echo office.

Congratulations on the production of quality.

As others see it

Antagonism by the forest industry to the establishment of wilderness parks is hardly new in Ontario, but industry's most recent tactic is - the use of paid "advocacy" advertising to present their case. In response to a proposed Whitewater Lake wilderness park near Armstrong, Great Lakes Forest Products this winter ran a series of four newspaper ads in northern papers. The ads are large, glossy, and more than a little slippery, but their central message is clear.

"Some of our canoe enthusiasts want to take over huge areas for single purpose use," says Great Lakes. "Withholding land from productive use is a cost we all must bear directly or indirectly." "To leave a forest area unmanaged can be self-defeating in the long term." The answer, in the minds of the forest industry, is multiple use - "a time for harvesting, a time for regeneration, and a time for recreation."

Unfortunately, the forest industry seems to have no time for conservation, and precious little for regeneration. The key idea behind wilderness is to set aside a few areas untouched by man to act as sanctuaries and as natural benchmarks for scientific study when all else has been harvested. The boreal forest ecosystem has taken 12,000 years to develop, and we are far from understanding all its workings. Is it prudent to wipe out this heritage entirely in a few decades?

Is it not also a trifle arrogant to suggest that an unmanaged forest is "self-defeating"? Are the forests of northern Ontario, developed through the millennia, really on the verge of collapse, just waiting for Great Lakes to rescue their vitality by clear-cutting? Given the record of Ontario's forest managers, who leave over 150,000 additional acres without proper regeneration each year, the hazards of management appear substantially greater than the hazards of untamed nature.

By portraying wilderness as simply an elitist recreation cause, and by blaming the shortage in industrial wood supply on parks instead of poor forest management, Great Lakes has missed the point. Sooner or later, we will be forced to stop squandering our northern forests and manage them responsibly. In my view, we should face that reality now, while we still have the opportunity to reserve a few wilderness areas for posterity in their natural state.

The Leeds and Grenville County Board of Education found itself in quite a predicament Monday evening during its regular meeting, when it came to the subject of early admission to kindergarten.

The topic has moral and legal overtones that will become increasingly important in the next few years and later on in the future.

The board has been allowing youngsters who pass appropriate tests to enter kindergarten at an earlier age than the Education Act demands. It has been doing so since 1975.

But adamant statements by the Minister of Education, Bette Stephenson, and increased threats of audits that will remove provincial funding from the board's coffers should an audit uncover such youngsters, caused the board to drop Monday night the early admission effective next school year.

There are two ways to look at the question.

First of all, the board really had no choice because of the legal ramifications of the Ontario Ministry not permitting funding for underage kindergarten students.

And the cost of testing the youngsters - 12 made it throughout the whole system and 14 of 86 tested qualified - is quite high for such a small number of youngsters.

But we can empathize with trustees like Donald Davis and Dolores Wing who feel a valuable program is being dropped and who feel the Ministry should be lobbied to change its mind.

What the ministry is lagging behind on, is the fact that more and more youngsters in that

The annual Easter Seal Campaign will soon be getting underway in Haliburton County. Throughout Ontario, 237 service clubs affiliated with the Easter Seal Society will be aiming at a provincial objective of well over $3,000,000 needed to maintain essential rehabilitation of services for thousands of Ontario's physically handicapped children. The Rotary Clubs of Minden and Haliburton who are in charge of the Easter Seal Campaign locally are looking forward to receiving your donations. In 23 offices across Ontario, there are 37 public health nurses, specializing in pediatric rehabilitation, who offer consultative services in the care and management of physically handicapped children in home and community. The Society also owns and operates five summer camps located near London, Port Colborne, Collingwood, Kirkland Lake and Perth. Activities include arts, crafts, music, drama, swimming, boating and outdoor adventure programs. Through Easter Seal funds, parents are assisted in meeting the costs of artificial limbs, braces, wheelchairs, etc., needed by their children.

There seems to be one word that stands out in my mind this week and that word is involvement. Many of us never seem to get involved in anything and it seems to be the old story of the same people doing most of the work in most communities. In my opinion all of us should be involved in at least one thing in the particular area in which we reside. If one looks around you will find that you can see many things that you can become involved in and here are just a few: service clubs, minor hockey, school of fine arts, boy scouts, cubs, beavers, brownies, guides, church work, curling, cross country ski club, skating, and I could go on and on. Why not get out and help your neighbour when he or she needs help? If we all get involved in something it would certainly make the workload a little easier on those who seem to take an active part in so many things in the community. I have always taken a great interest in politics in all levels of government whether it be municipal, provincial or federal. I take a stand and everyone knows the political party I support. I enjoy getting involved. There is an old saying that if you stand for everything, soon you will stand for nothing. How true this is. By getting involved you will find a great satisfaction that we guarantee will give you a different outlook on life.

It's hockey playoff time in Haliburton County and we wish all of the teams who are still left in the running from the various local areas, the best of luck as they attempt to bring championships in their class to our fair county.

I had the pleasure on Sunday afternoon of attending the official opening and service of Dedication and Blessing for the Community Christian Concern Centre on Haliburton's main street. Along with over 100 people we were given a tour of the building with an explanation of the activities that will be taking place here. This Christian Community Centre is an historic venture, promoting Christian Unity in the Spirit and reaching out to our local community. Inside the building there is a lounge room set aside for young people, a lounge for senior citizens to drop in and a Christian Book and Record Store. Upper room for prayer and bible study, an addition all-purpose room, and a Minister's Counselling office. A minister is on duty there three hours every morning between 9 and 12. In cutting the ribbon to open this new Christian Concern Centre is a credit to the community and he looks forward to the day when many people will receive help from here. Rev. John Smith of the Lakeside Baptist Church told the gathering that the opening of this centre was a dream come true and for the past several years he had a vision that someday this dream would become a reality. The building is now open and as far as we are concerned if just one person is helped in anyway through this venture then it will all have been worthwhile. The community owes the Haliburton Ministerial Association a vote of thanks for having the foresight to go ahead with this new venture.

In speaking with some of the local hockey players and hockey fans in the community, many of them seem to have the idea that it's time that Minden and Haliburton get together and thought about planning to ice an intermediate hockey club next winter. I have been told that there is enough good hockey talent at the present time in the two communities to put a first class team on the ice. The only drawback to this situation could be the possibility that the team would find it very difficult in finding a league to play in. If a league was available nearby it would make it much easier as far as travel is concerned. Well here we are throwing out the idea and we hope that anyone sitting around with any suggestions on this topic will get in touch with us so that we can relay the messages on to those interested in forming a club.

Congratulations to the Rockcliffe hockey club who were the winners of the 2nd annual Haliburton Kinsmen Invitational Hockey Tournament played on Sunday at the arena in Haliburton. They defeated Floyd Hall Insurance in the final game.

Some of the side roads and highways in the county have really heaved up and potholes abound wherever you look. Some of the motorists tell me that some roads and highways are in worse condition than others. When things are in this condition, it's really hard on your vehicle.

The March break will soon be in progress and many people from Haliburton County are either on vacation in other parts of Ontario or are basking in the sun in the sunny south.

For the first time in years, election posters are being ripped off posts and trees in and around the village of Haliburton. It would appear on the surface that the signs in support of Liberal candidate John Eakins seem to be the target for those doing the damage.

Pic of the Past

To help celebrate Monmouth's Centennial year we are running from time to time photos submitted to us by the Monmouth Centennial Committee showing what life was like in Wilberforce and area in years gone by. This week we are showing Riley's Boarding House which was built in 1910 after the previous store and boarding house burned down. The building pictured here was sold in 1919 to the Mulloys, who sold to the Agnew's. This building, which was located about 40' south of the present Agnew's store, was destroyed by fire in the 1920's. It is interesting to note that the sign in the window on the left reads

Bill Smiley

Hello, out dere! Are you as sick as I am of the whole foofawraw concerning our unpatriated constitution.

Are you fed up with the daily battle in parliament: the finger-pointing, the jowls-shaking, the threats of coercion by the Liberals, the howls of defiance of the Tories, the yelps of frustration of the NDP?

And all over a piece of paper that has been residing quietly in Westminster, London, England, for more years than most of us are old.

Are you becoming a mite nauseated by having your tax dollars used to bolster infirm corporations like Chrysler and Massey-Ferguson, that could not hack it in the market place?

Or the same tax dollars (yours), used to buy up oil companies, paying about thirty per cent more than the shares are worth on the stock exchange?

Are you tired to the teeth with the constant bickering among the provinces, and the constant squabbling between them and Ottawa?

Are you totally ticked off with the constant threats of separation from the Wealthy West, the Querulous Quebecois, and recently, of all things, the New-O-Newfies?

Are you thoroughly disgusted with unions who serve the public - postal, hospital, transit - thumbing their collective noses at the law?

There you are. A lot of rhetorical questions. It's exactly like the questions for alcoholics. If you answer "No" to one of them, you are an alcoholic, trying to hide in the closet. If you answer yes to all of them, you are also an alcoholic.

If all my readers are as angry as I am, or even half as angry, with all this raucous shouting, all these cries of "Gimme", or "Me, too," there must be a long, slow burn, like a dynamite fuse, creeping across this country.

My kid brother, who spent thirty-five years in the uniform of his country, and not at any desk job, retired recently, with the Distinguished Flying Cross, among many other decorations. He was a full colonel in our armed forces. He has a pretty good pension, and is young enough to undertake a second career.

One would think he'd settle down to write his memoirs, or perhaps run for parliament, or at least resign himself to writing caustic letters-to-the-editor, signed "Col. Ret'd.", from his comfortable home somewhere in Canada.

One would be wrong. He picked up stakes, turned his back on his own country, and retired to Florida. He had "had" Canada up to the ears. And I don't blame him.

Let's go back to the constitution. What a lot of poppycock! If the government had quietly asked the opposition parties to agree to requesting the British government to send the silly thing to Canada, there would have been no problem. The Brits are used to it. Nobody is against motherhood or a constitution coming home.

But now that we don't build statues of public figures, Pierre Trudeau wants one built of paper, that will find its place in the history books.

As a result, he and his centurions are bulldozing their way through parliament, alienating the provinces, and radiating an arrogance that hasn't been seen since the days of C. D. Howe, and his demand for closure, because parliament was getting in his way, back in the fifties.

And the Tories, stung bitterly by being turfed out of office after only a few months wandering the corridors of power, are equally intransigent in their opposition. They won't give an inch, even should the Liberals offer one. On the sidelines, the NDP runs around in circles, trying to attract some attention. They supported the Liberals on the Constitution only because they hate them less than they do the Tories.

How about those tax dollars used, without so much as a by-your-leave, to prop up near-defunct manufacturers? Sure, some would go bankrupt. Some jobs would be lost. But couldn't more jobs be created by using those hundreds of millions positively, than by handing crutches to foreign-owned corporations?

What in the world was accomplished by using money out of our back pocket to buy Petro-Fina at a ridiculous price? True, we have more Canadian-owned gas stations. But this company will not put one more litre of gas into our energy programme. And if the new acquisition is a well-run as the post office, Lord help us all.

A charge of careless driving was also laid against a 31 year old Gravenhurst man after his pickup truck left the Vankoughnet Road and rolled over.

Henry Barnes was charged after his truck slid on snow.

OPP report

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of March 9 to 15.

During this period the staff investigated 50 general occurrences which included four break and enters, four thefts, two liquor offences and one impaired driver. Some 12 motor vehicle accidents were also investigated.

And, as I have always said, if anybody wants to separate, let them go to it. I, for one, would not fight to hold Canada together, to force an erring son or daughter to stay home against his/her will.

If Newfoundland wants to go, let her (it?) go. With all that oil, and all that fish, along with some spuds from P.E.I., the natives could live like kings on fish 'n chips forever. The country would be bigger than Iceland, and a lot better off financially.

But if she goes, let the government stop reaching into my wallet for welfare and baby bonuses and coastguard protection, and new air-strips for Newfie.

I've run out of space, and haven't even begun. If you are as sore as I am about the way this country is falling apart, under an onslaught of sheer, unadulterated crap, sound off. Let's hear you. Shout it from the rooftops. If you are as sore as I am, welcome, Sorehead. Let's be Soreheads together.

From the Chamber By Bob Stinson

This is the last column before we head to the Toronto Sportsmen Show and the last call for your participation with either brochures or direct representation. We still have room for more members.

We will be heading down Thursday morning and will return Tuesday, March 31. There will therefore be no column for the next two weeks, while we are away.

If you are in Toronto during the March break drop in and see us at booth W-31 and pick up a "Beer Nut" tee shirt while they last.

Toll Free Line Installed

Although we are experiencing a slight delay in acquiring the switching equipment with which we will forward calls to participating members we now have the toll free telephone line (1-800-461-7677) in operation. As a result of an H.C.S.A. newsletter we have already had a number of cottagers making use of the new service to inquire about conditions on cottage roads and lakes. We welcome this, of course, but it does already indicate how important it is for various organizations and individuals to keep the Chamber staff informed on events and conditions.

A good example occurred last week when both Pat Waddell of Haliburton Wildlife and Bob Jennings of Sandy Lane contacted the office to let us know that there was still skiing and snowmobiling available in the northern part of the county. We were able to pass this information on to the media as well as quite a number of anxious callers.

So please keep us informed and we'll do our best to keep the public informed.

Tourist Trends

A number of indicators suggest that we are going to see far more visitors from south of the border than we have experienced in the past. Operators report a dramatic increase in inquiries from that sector and those visiting travel shows tell us that they are very hungry for information on Ontario wherever they go. Our depressed dollar is a major factor and to them our gas prices are still a bargain. Let's be sure to "Treat Them Royally" and be prepared to grant them full exchange on their money.

The loss of snow has not had as large an impact on local business as we would have expected. It is amazing how many visitors are still coming to our area in spite of conditions right now, and business, although down, is at least not dead. Let's hope this is a good sign for the spring and summer ahead.

Year of the Disabled

Did you know that one in every ten Canadians has a disability of some kind. As hosts to visitors from all over Canada, United States and Europe can we afford to overlook this "Hidden 10%", let alone consider our own residents of the county with disabilities.

ADVERTISING CORRECTION

In last week's edition we placed an advertisement relating to Beethoven and have since had pointed out the fact that he was second born and not the fifth as the advertisement leads us to believe. This alters radically the claim of the quotation. It is unfortunate that we used this quotation which originated and is still used extensively in the U.S. and here in Canadian newspapers and magazines. We hope that their use of it like ours is out of ignorance and no one is using it in an attempt to sensationalize or mislead. Our own credibility then becomes questionable. In such an issue as abortion we recognize the need of absolute honesty and integrity. It has also been pointed out that statistics can be made to say anything and one needs to be wary in their use -- we accept this caution readily and agree. With the exception of the Beethoven advertisement, all other facts have been based upon a Statistics Canada release, Tuesday, December 16, 1980. For further details contact S. Wadhwa, Head, Therapeutic Abortions, Institutional Care, Statistics Canada, Statistics Section, Ottawa, K1A 0Z5. Phone 613-995-0861. We will ensure that any future statistical information will only be used subsequent to verification of authenticity and reliability. We once again apologize and hope that people will see that we were acting in good faith.

HALIBURTON

Sponsored by The Victoria/Haliburton Liberal Association on behalf of John Eakins

One of the major goals of proclaiming this year as a year of the disabled was to create an awareness that would in turn cause us to provide better facilities for these people. The Ontario government is now identifying in their various directories where special facilities exist to handle such things as wheelchairs. Look around your place of business. There are probably some very simple things you could consider doing that would make it more accessible to those in wheelchairs, or those who walk with a cane or crutches, or to those who are blind. It could be as simple as installing a handrail or building a ramp or widening a door or aisle. It could be more complicated like adequate washroom facilities. Whatever needs to be done should be considered as a responsibility to one out of every 10 customers that may use your facilities.

Frost Centre Maple Syrup Day

The original date set for the maple syrup demonstrations at the Frost Centre has been moved up to March 21 because of the spring conditions that have brought on an early sap flow. Visitors will be treated to a tour of the sugar bush, and a demonstration of the sugaring off process. A festival lunch will also be served in the large cafeteria. Other facilities of the Frost Centre such as their wildlife display will also be open to the public and if you have never been to the centre we enthusiastically recommend you visit it on March 21 between 9:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. -- and after a day at the centre top it off at the H.C.S.A. dance - Minden Arena - with an added chance of winning $2,000 in local merchandise.

pre-kindergarten age group may as well be in school as at the babysitter's, as in more and more cases both parents are holding down jobs during the day.

In this time of the nuclear family and the economic necessity of both parents working, the ministry should bear in mind that early schooling for youngsters is important.

If not, the province should not lag behind in daycare facilities either.

The importance of this particular service was driven home recently when the Gananogue Chamber of Commerce found out that daycare facilities were prime on the list of employees of the proposed OHIP and Ministry of Transportation and Communications offices in Kingston who would potentially move to Gananogue.

Although the Chamber has had people requesting more information and volunteering to help with daycare facilities, the problem remains the same: the Ontario government has to acknowledge that not all youngsters remain at home until they reach kindergarten age.

The board should be lobbying in spite of how adamant the Ministry of Education remains.

And if she remains as stubborn about early kindergarten as she is about 60 per cent provincial funding of education, there are other choices available.

Voters can make a change on March 19. from the Gananogue Reporter

Game three set for Friday in Haliburton

Midgets drop games to Havelock

by Len Pizzev - Editor

Haliburton's OMHA Midgets have their backs to the wall after dropping the first two games of their best of five Ontario semi-final series against Havelock over the weekend.

In Friday's opening game before a home town crowd of more than 200, the Midgets opened strongly, bolstered by a solid defense and Tim Deremo's exceptional work in nets. Five minutes into the second period they had a 3-1 lead and appeared headed for victory. But a series of penalties allowed Havelock to wrestle away the lead, and the momentum that goes with it, by the end of the period. And although Haliburton tried to come back, they simply could not regain their earlier dominance.

Haliburton wasted no time in giving the home town fans something to cheer about in the first period. Just 20 seconds after the opening face-off, Duff Mitchell picked up a loose puck near centre ice and streaked in to beat the Havelock net minder cleanly on his stick side. Assist on the goal went to Steve Smith.

Both teams had trouble getting organized after the initial quick start. Haliburton's defense proved effective around the net in the first five minutes, but they had trouble moving the puck over the blue line.

A little over five minutes into the period, a high sticking call against Havelock brought out the Haliburton power play. In the opening seconds of the penalty Haliburton's attackers got off two quick slap shots but they were handled easily by the Havelock net minder and for the rest of the penalty, the Havelock skaters managed to keep Haliburton scrambling in their own end.

Back at full strength, Havelock took command, putting on pressure around the Haliburton net that paid off with a tying marker at 7:12.

A slashing call to Scott Rae at 10:31 put Haliburton on the defensive, but they tied up Havelock's shooters well, keeping most of the action away from Deremo in the crease.

A close call came at the 12:30 mark when Deremo fumbled a hard shot but managed to smother the rebound before any damage could be done.

The Haliburton net minder was particularly outstanding in the final minute of the period, kicking out shot after shot while Haliburton was unable to generate much offense.

Less than a minute into the second period Dave Nicholls put Haliburton back in front on a perfectly timed deke that left the Havelock net minder sprawling. Assisting were Dean Curry and Duff Mitchell. Some two minutes later, Nicholls again took a pass from Mitchell and repeated the earlier play, taking his time and picking the opening perfectly to give Haliburton a solid 3-1 lead.

The goal appeared to put fire in the Haliburton attack and move within one goal. Offsetting penalties again slowed down the action, and at one point during the final minutes of the period, Haliburton had four men in the box, giving Havelock a 5-3 advantage in manpower.

Deremo continued to be effective in the nets in the closing minutes, but with 1:48 left to play, one of a relentless series of slapshots that Havelock was aiming from inside the blue line got

Both teams had a number of excellent chances as the clock wound down but could not make them count until, with only seconds remaining and Deremo on the bench in favour of an extra attacker, Havelock bounced a shot off the boards in their own zone. It slid toward the empty net, chased by a Haliburton defender who reached it just as it crossed the goal line to put the game on ice for Havelock 6-4.

Haliburton had looked like the better team throughout much of the game, and had missed winning by the narrowest of margins, but the loss appeared to take some of the spirit out of the team as they headed for Sunday's match in Havelock.

From the opening face-off, things did not go well for Haliburton.

Havelock netted two in the first period and four in the second to take a 6-0 lead into the third period.

Scott Rae spoiled the shut-out with an unassisted goal at 2:59 of the final period, and at the five-minute mark, Dave Nicholls took a pass from Scott Mitchell and made it count to narrow the gap to four. But it was as close as Haliburton would come that day.

Havelock netted two more before the game ended to take an 8-2 win and a commanding 2-0 lead in the best of five series.

Game three goes Friday at 8 p.m. at the Dysart arena.

Haliburton guards its net

Haliburton gained a two-man advantage as they took the action away from Havelock for the next several minutes.

Half-way through the period the action slowed as both teams began checking closely, but Haliburton still had the game well in hand, despite being unable to capitalize on a man advantage.

Haliburton's troubles began at the 10:20 mark, when Duff Mitchell was called for high sticking. It took Havelock only eight seconds to capitalize on the advantage by to tie the score at three each.

The goal appeared to put Havelock in command, and with 59 seconds left to play, they netted another to move in front 4-3.

Haliburton fought to come back in the opening minutes of the third period, confining much of the play to the Havelock end. A man advantage brought out the power-play and seconds later, Haliburton found itself with a two-man advantage. The opportunity was not missed. At the 3:10 mark, Duff Mitchell took a pass from Nicholls in front of the Havelock net and slipped it neatly into the mesh to put Haliburton back on even footing.

But the home team's hopes were short-lived. Six minutes and 40 seconds into the final period Havelock tied up Haliburton's defense and batted in a rebound to go in front 5-4.

Wilberforce wins Minden tourney

Nine teams compete for Reginald (Bus) Cramp Memorial trophy

Wilberforce Bantams were the top contenders at the Reginald (Bus) Cramp Memorial tournament in Minden on Saturday.

Wilberforce started out strongly in first round play with an unbelievable 20-0 win over Little Britain.

In their next contest, the boys shut-out Mark St. of Peterborough in a 3-0 victory. Mark St. was given a bye in the first round play when Omeme didn't show up for the tournament.

In other first round play, Minden edged out Fenelon Falls in a tie game but the advantage of the first goal helped the home team into championship play.

Darryl Ward was Minden's first scorer off a shot from Darryl Landry. Tom MacLeod then scored on a combination shot from John Wells and John Ballantyne.

With less than two minutes remaining in the first period Fenelon put a marker on the scoreboard.

With the puck moving in their direction Fenelon Falls scored at 8:37 in the second period. Minden began to sweat with the score tied but a shot from Robert Landry and MacLeod put the home team in the lead again.

Fenelon tied the score again only 14 seconds later.

There was no scoring in the final frame.

St. Anne's, from Peterborough, defeated Lakefield Pharmacy 4-2 and Georgina ousted Lakefield Fuels into the consolation round with a 3-1 defeat.

St. Anne's took a bye in second round play.

Minden lost in its second game of the day as Georgina trounced the home team 6-1.

Minden wasn't out-played throughout the game but a strong push by Georgina in the final period ruined the home team's chances at the championship.

In the first period, Georgina racked up two points while Minden couldn't get a good shot at their opponent's net.

In the second period, the tables were turned with Wells scoring Minden's only goal from MacLeod.

In the third period Georgina scored four times.

Georgina received the same treatment from Wilberforce in the championship match when the team from the eastern part of the county won the 6-1 victory.

In consolation play, Fenelon Falls was easier on Little Britain than Wilberforce was, as they eased in a 4-2 win. Lakefield Pharmacy was an even match for Lakefield Fuels but the advantage of the first goal moved the fuel team ahead in consolation play.

After losing to Wilberforce in the championship play, Mark St. was matched with Lakefield Fuels in the consolation semi-finals. The Peterborough team won 7-1. Fenelon Falls had the bye in the semi-final play.

Mark Street's strong playing moved the team into first place as the boys defeated Fenelon Falls 13-1.

The Scoresheet

Minden Novice are edging towards a win in consolation play against Fenelon Falls.

The team has picked up two wins while Fenelon is behind with one point in the best of five series. In Fenelon on Thursday, Lorne Greer shut the home team out as his team mates chalked up three goals.

In the first period, Randy Bull scored from Robbie Ackersblade and Kent Taylor. Taylor then took a shot at the mesh on a well-placed pass from Bull.

In the second period Bull scored on a pass from Taylor.

There was no scoring in the third period. Final score was 3-0.

Minden Atoms ended round robin play with two losses this week.

In Bobcaygeon last Tuesday, the home team shut out Minden 4-0.

On Sunday, in Sunderland, Minden was defeated 5-2.

In the first period, neither team scored. Sunderland started the scoring with a lone goal in the second period.

In the third period, it looked like Minden might be the winner as Scott Russell scored once from

Signe Tashlin wins junior award in invitational gymnastic meet

Signe Tashlin won the top all round gymnast junior title at a five school meet in Haliburton last Wednesday.

Tashlin won the four-event class with a mark of 29.05, 20 marks better than her nearest competitor from Kenner Collegiate in Peterborough.

Tashlin's routine on the vault, bars, beam and floor won her the title.

In individual competition, Tashlin placed second in floor routine, one-tenth of a mark behind the first place competitor from I.E. Weldon in Lindsay.

In the bar competition, Tashlin placed first, with a mark of 9.05, well above her opponent from Kenner, who scored 8.45. Joanne Teskey placed fourth with a score of 8.35.

Tashlin marked up another score for Haliburton when she placed third in the vaulting event.

In the intermediate standing, Jenny Barry placed fourth in the beam competition only 65 one-hundredth of a point behind the winner from Peterborough Collegiate.

When the total standings were announced, Peterborough Collegiate won the meet with 274.63 points, Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute was second with 257.22, I.E. Weldon placed third with 252.64 points, Kenner Collegiate was fourth with 218.01 and Haliburton was fifth with 141.75 points.

OMHA Pee Wees head into semi final

On Wednesday, March 4, the Haliburton OMHA Pee Wee hockey club travelled to Powassan to begin their best of three quarter final series.

After a weeks lay off the boys started very slowly with Powassan drawing first blood at the 5:46 mark of the 1st period. This goal seemed to spur the boys on as they controlled the play and it finally paid off with a goal with only 4:45 left in the first period. Ian Cooper, who has been playing good two way hockey, scored with assists going to Tran LaRue and Cory McKnight.

The second period was scoreless until the 10:16 mark when Tran LaRue was sent in on a breakaway by Ian Cooper.

The third period was scoreless and good goal tending was featured by the Powassan goalie and Haliburton's Mike McLean who continued his fine play.

Final score was Haliburton 2, Powassan 1.

Game two was played in Haliburton, Friday, March 6. It started out much the same way game one had finished. This game again, featured excellent goal tending from both teams.

The first and second periods were scoreless but end to end rushes kept the fans on the edge of their seats. The third period started out the same way but with Haliburton playing a man short. Cory McKnight made an end to end rush and beat the Powassan goal tender to notch the first goal of the game. The last goal came with Haliburton playing two men short. Kent Bannister stole the puck from a Powassan forward and set up Tran LaRue with a perfect pass. Haliburton now awaits the winner between Ennismore and Godfrey.

Haliburton will be playing Ennismore in the All Ontario PeeWee semi finals starting Tuesday, at 7:00 p.m. in Ennismore. Game two will be played in Haliburton Saturday at 7:30.

Rockcliffe wins tournament

The fast skating Rockcliffe Hotel team from Minden were the overall winners of the one day Kinsmen hockey tournament in Haliburton on Sunday. They managed a convincing win over Floyd Hall Insurance in the final game to take home the Kinsmen trophy.

In the consolation final, Minden Home Hardware just got by Emmerson Lumber 5-4 to win the Haliburton County Echo trophy.

Action got underway at 8 a.m. when the Rockcliffe squad faced off against Haliburton Lumber. The match proved to be a high scoring affair, as the Minden shooters netted 12 goals, while the Haliburton marksmen could manage only six.

In Game #2, Curry Motors rolled over Minden Home Hardware 4-1. Home Hardware took the lead early in the game, but the Curry's squad was just too strong, as they scored two in the first and two in the third to take the win.

Game #3, was also a high scoring affair, as Bishop and Wilson met Hartwick Construction. The construction team found the mark first and never looked back, although the surveyors team had a strong third period, netting four goals. Final score was Hartwick Construction 9, Bishop and Wilson 6.

Game #4, saw Floyd Hall Insurance face off against Emmerson Lumber. Each team netted one in the opening period, but in the second, Floyd Hall moved in front 2-1. They kept the momentum through the third period, netting two more before the lumbermen could get one to make it 4-2. The gap widened again with seconds of the lumbermen goal, and remained 5-2 when the final buzzer sounded.

In second round action on the championship side, the Minden squad, but Glenn Fick answered for the motor-men a minute and a half later, to make it 5-3.

In the remaining minutes of the second period, Brown and Barkwell each got their second goal on the game to give the Rockcliffe squad a comfortable 7-3 advantage going into the final 15 minutes.

The Curry's squad caught fire in the third frame, netting two goals in the first five minutes off the sticks of Gary Burtch and Tom Curry, and it looked like they had a chance to catch up. But they were stymied in the final 10 minutes, and the Rockcliffe team coasted to a 7-5 win.

The other second round game on the championship side paired Floyd Hall against Hartwick Construction.

Hartwick took a two goal lead on markers by Dave Pettes and Peter Pearson, but Floyd Hall came back to tie the score before the period ended, as Dave Edge and Neil Burk each netted one.

The second period was a seesaw battle as the insurance team moved in front 3-2 on a goal by Dean Hewitt and Hartwick came back to tie the score off the stick of Andy Campbell.

The third period belonged to Floyd Hall Insurance, however, as they came up with three unanswered goals. Scoring were Jimmy Campbell with one and Dean Hewitt with two.

The win set the stage for the final match against Rockcliffe for the overall title.

On the consolation side, Home Hardware came up with a convincing 7-2 win over Haliburton Lumber, and Emmerson Lumber rolled over Bishop and Wilson 11-6.

Scoring for Home Hardware were Barry Walker with two, Steve Bowcott with two, Shane McKelvey, Ted Vasey and Scott Gartshore. Marksmen for the lumbermen were Al Oakley and Paul Morrisette.

Tallying for Emmerson Lumber were Gary Brohman with a hat trick, Brian Mullholland with two, Roy Scott with two, Frank Powers, Larry Wilford, Kim Emmerson and Derwin Barry.

Scoring for Bishop and Wilson were Wren Billings with two, Bob Woodcock, Walt Prime, Rick Wood and Jim Scheffee.

The consolation final was a close contest that wasn't decided until the final minutes of the third period.

Home Hardware jumped into the lead two and a half minutes into the opening period when Barry Walker found the mark. At the 5:58 mark, Gary Brohman evened the score for Emmerson Lumber, and at 9:20, the lumbermen moved into the lead on a goal by Larry Wilford.

Neither team could change the score for the rest of the period, and in the second period, despite a number of excellent opportunities, the teams were stymied until, with just 2:51 remaining, Roy Scott connected to give the lumbermen a 3-1 lead.

In the third frame, Home Hardware began pressing the attack, and the pressure paid off early, as they moved to within one goal at 2:49 off the Haliburton's Tri-County Novice team wound up their season Monday night in Bobcaygeon when they lost the crucial fifth game of their playoff series. Team members are, front, from l., Donald Bint, David Bint, Brian Waller, Jamie Hunter, Kevin Ashman, Jason

Tri-County Novice end season

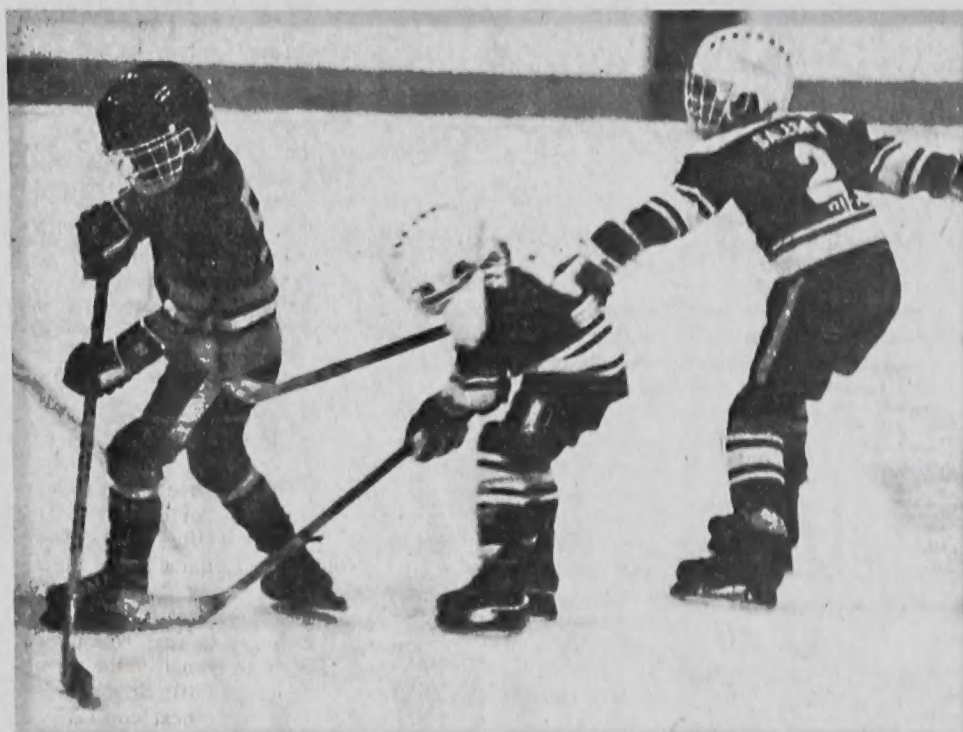

Final game necessary to end Novice series

The Haliburton Tri-County Novice team extended their best of five championship series with Bobcaygeon to a fifth game on Monday night, however, the boys were unable to upset the Bobcaygeon squad, losing the fifth game by a 3-1 score.

With the series tied at one game each, Haliburton travelled to Bobcaygeon on Friday night where they defeated the host team 3-0. This was perhaps Haliburton's finest game of the season. Shawn Perrin scored all three of Haliburton's goals and Jamie Hunter gave a fine performance in goal. Bobcaygeon returned to Halibur-ton on Saturday where the boys couldn't seem to get untracked and Bobcaygeon won the game by a close 1-0 score. This knotted the series at two games each and set the stage for Monday's final.

Haliburton opened the scoring of the final at 1:27 of the second period on a nifty goal by Jason Morissette. Scott Spittel then went to work for the home team, scoring three goals in succession. Haliburton came on strong in the final frame, but were unable to beat the Bobcaygeon goalie. Congratulations are extended to the boys for a fine effort and a very good season.

Haliburton's Tri County Novice put out a solid effort in their playoff series against Bobcaygeon, forcing a fifth game Monday night.

Tournament on Saturday

The Dysart arena will be the scene of some exciting hockey action this Saturday as the annual Glen Dart Memorial Hockey Tournament goes on throughout the day.

At 10 a.m. the Haliburton Tykes will take on their counterparts from Lakefield in what should be an entertaining matchup. Minden Novice will meet Haliburton at 11:15, while the Haliburton Atoms will face off against Woodville at 12:30.

At 1:45 the Haliburton PeeWees will meet Bobcaygeon and at 3 p.m. the Wilberforce Bantams, fresh from a win over the weekend at a tournament in Minden, will take to the ice to challenge Haliburton.

Sheldon Nicholls presents the Kinsmen trophy to Larry Sawyer, captain of the championship winning Rockcliffe hockey team at the close of Sunday's tournament.

Rockcliffe Hotel faced their toughest competition of the day when they met Curry Motors.

The motormen got off the mark first when Greg Bishop netted one, but the Rockcliffe shooters came back with four in the period, as Lee Bull netted two, while Dave Brown and Larry Sawyer got one each.

Curry's narrowed the gap only seven seconds into the second period, as Tom Curry connected on a solo effort. John Barkwell countered for Dwayne Cooper and again from Cooper and Taylor to take the lead.

Sunderland then let go with four quick goals to win the match.

Sunderland was the top team in round robin play so the team will now advance. The Minden Atoms are now finished for the season.

Skaters tops in annual presentation

Many friends and relatives turned out this weekend to see both Haliburton and Minden Figure Skating Clubs perform in a joined Carnival as a finale for the Club's season. Saturday evening the show was at the Haliburton arena and in Minden on Sunday afternoon.

"Toyland on Ice" was this year's theme and both arenas were decorated with balloons, clowns and stuffed animals.

Skaters who range in age from pre schoolers to teenagers, put on a skating display that frequently gave the girls and boys a chance to display the skill and techni-

Blakey, Carry Zorjen, Judy Finlay, Shona Ross, Jennifer Gentle, Jo-Anne Kerr, Sandy Bailey, Nancy Wood and Julie Hall.

As an added attraction on Saturday evening, Haliburton had members from the Bancroft Figure Skating Club as their guests. Wendy Comrie was soloist and a group of dancers, entitled the Dallas Cowgirls also performed. On Sunday in Minden guest skater was Darren Carter from Upper Canada Skating Club.

A great deal of work went into this production with skaters having put in hours of ques of figure skating which they have been working on through out the winter under the direction of Mark Gignac. Most of the skaters performed in the Interclub competition held in Lindsay.

A number of solos were featured throughout the program; by Margaret Reiss, Misti Campbell, Jodie McKnight, Tanya Willis, Cyndy Byers, Alison Sisson, Dayna Atkinson, Christa Irwin, Tammy Pritchard, Wama practice. Much credit goes to Mark Gignac, the clubs' coach who has done a superb job with these youngsters.

Skating will return to its regular time schedule. There will be no skating during March break.

the sun in and keep the cold air out.

The secret behind the success of this greenhouse is apparently a unique underlay sheet made of spun olefin which lets moisture seep out as it reflects the heat back into the soil and the greenhouse.

Burton says the other good selling point behind the greenhouses is that John Bradshaw, a well-known gardening expert, has given it his seal of approval. A helpful tip booklet written by Bradshaw accompanies every greenhouse that leaves the Haliburton plant.

Burton and his partners are hoping the recent interest in gardening will make the "season extender" greenhouse a popular item in Simpsons' store where all the orders have been placed so far.

"Everyone seems to be gardening now," Burton said. Recently one of the greenhouses was assembled in a downtown Toronto store and the public seemed to like the idea, Burton said.

"The response just from people walking through the store was terrific," he said.

If the gardening boom continues and the greenhouses become popular items in the marketplace, Burton said the company may start manufacturing mulchers to produce high quality compost.

The company responsible for marketing the greenhouses is now trying to establish distributors for the new product from the east coast to the west coast, Burton said.

At the present time it seems like the Haliburton plant will be the major manufacturing centre for the greenhouses and possibly the mulchers, Burton said. And the little plant has already started to grow. Initially there were four employees as well as Burton. Now, an additional two people are needed for night work.

If the progress continues, Burton said he can see a need to have at least eight employees manufacturing the greenhouses.

However, it may not be a year-long booming enterprise. The busy season is late winter to early spring to ensure all the distributors are stocked before gardening begins, Burton said.

But as most people in Haliburton know, those eight jobs in the lethargic time of year will be valuable assets to the community.

Once production was underway, about the first of March, the employees kept finding simpler and faster ways to manufacture the greenhouses, Burton said.

"It's getting a lot faster, which is bound to happen."

Three employees are involved in bending, cutting and punching holes into seven different shapes which eventually make up the frame and another employee packs the greenhouses into the clean white retail boxes to be stapled and piled ready for transportation out of the county.

This little manufacturing plant wasn't hindered by the transportation problems which may have deterred other companies from establishing here, Burton said.

The marketing company has supplied the trucks that carry the greenhouses away so Burton's only concern is getting the product ready for transport.

As well as eliminating major transportation problems, the manufacturing process was not held up waiting for government grants which might never have come.

"We just didn't have time" to wait for a grant application to be processed, Burton said.

Although the main manufacturing will be done in Haliburton, Burton will not be selling the greenhouses to local retailers since that end of the business is operated by the Scarborough marketing firm.

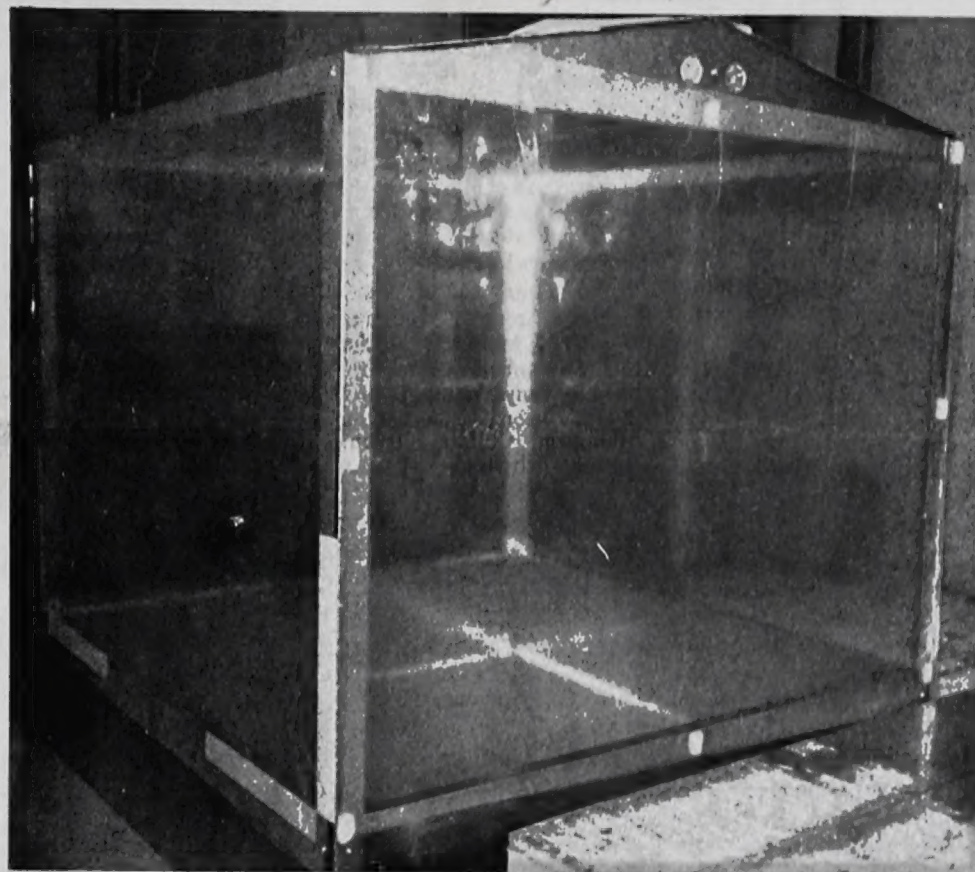

While consumers may be buying the greenhouses in the stores, Burton thinks the actual test will come during the month of March when the new "season extenders" are tested on Marketplace, a CBC television program.

If the greenhouses are a success, they may provide the backbone for a small, light, clean industry in Haliburton County.

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO THE HUMAN RACE?

A stunning visual experience • Multi-episode series • Two years in the making • Filmed in five countries - over 50 locations • Text and narration by Dr. Schaeffer and Dr. Koop • Clearly understandable by all from early teens up.

PANEL DISCUSSION AND CLOSE

We are thankful to the Volunteer Panelists (who have their own views) - But none the less have volunteered their expertise to answer "Fact" Finding questions - This is Not a Debate.

Episode 1

"Abortion of the Human Race"

Closely scrutinizing human life in its embryonic form and development, the episode leads into an examination of abortion as practiced in our society, its roots and growth in the legal system.

Episode 2

"Slaughter of the Innocents"

Looks at what seems almost unbelievable to many people; namely, that in our own day infanticide (killing of born babies) is already being practiced because of the door which abortion has opened. Key people in the medical profession are advocating its further practice and legalization on much the same grounds that abortion was argued earlier in the '70s. This growing practice and endorsement by the medical profession is documented.

Episode 3

"Death by Someone's Choice"

Carefully examines the proponents of euthanasia and projects in prophetic terms what the future will hold if this current trend toward the elderly and unwanted continues.

Episode 4

"The Basis for Human Dignity"

An innovative and original critique of the humanistic thinking which has brought us to this place of apathy towards the true rights of individuals. It presents a strong argument for the viability of the Christian alternative and its reasonable qualifications for being examined, not as an alternative, but the alternative, indeed Truth itself.

Episode 5

"Truth and History"

The statement of the Gospel from the time of the giving of the Law of Moses to the time of the early church. The Gospel of Jesus Christ, and the hope it brings, is examined, and developed. Thus, the series ends with a simple, yet strong, presentation of the only real solution to man's problems.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Statement of Revenue and Expenditures

This statement reflects the revenues and expenditures of the revenue fund and the following:

Township of Cardiff Recreation Committee
Township of Cardiff Cemetery Board

(b) Statement of Capital Operations

This statement reflects the capital expenditure of the municipality to be recovered from the general municipal revenue of the municipality and its local boards described in note 1(a).

(c) Balance Sheet

This statement reflects the assets and liabilities of the revenue fund, the capital fund, reserve funds and the local boards described in note 1(a).

(d) Fixed Assets

The historical cost and accumulated depreciation of fixed assets is not reported for municipal purposes. Instead, the "Capital outlay to be recovered in future years" which is the aggregate of the principal portion of unmatured long term liabilities, capital funds transferred to other organizations, and the cost of capital projects not yet permanently financed, is reported on the "Balance Sheet".

(e) Municipal Enterprises

There are no municipal enterprise activities carried on by the municipality.

(f) Charges for net long term liabilities

Debt retirement costs including principal and interest are charged against current revenues in the periods in which they are paid. Interest charges are not accrued for the periods from the date of the latest interest payment to the end of the financial year.

(g) Trust Funds

Trust funds administered by the municipality amounting to $3,250. are only reflected in the "Trust Funds - Statement of Continuity and Balance Sheet".

2. CAPITAL OUTLAY TO BE RECOVERED IN FUTURE YEARS

Capital outlays, including fixed assets and the transfers of capital funds in the amount of $41,463, which have been financed from general municipal revenues of the current year, are reported on the "Statement of Revenue and Expenditure".

3. RESERVES AND RESERVE FUNDS

During the year, $1,324 was credited directly to reserve funds without being recorded as revenues and expenditures of the "Revenue Fund". Sources of income were from interest earned.

4. ACCUMULATED NET REVENUE (DEFICIT) AT THE END OF THE YEAR

The balance in the revenue fund at the year end is available to reduce (to be added to) the levies of the following classes of ratepayers.

	1980	1979

Monday evening a meeting was held in our craft room to discuss the feasibility of acquiring a wheel chair van for the use of the Happy Gang and any other group or even wheel chair individuals that need such a convenience at any time. Attending were, Emil Neimann representing the Haliburton Highlands Senior Citizens' Club; Sylvia Smith, representing the Kinette Club; Marie Wallace, representing the Haliburton County Health Support Service and Jack Basset, representing Wheels to Meals. Many other groups were asked to attend but maybe there was not enough time between receipt of the request and the meeting. Foremost in the discussion was that a van is much needed and is itself desirable because it handles wheel chairs easily with its short ramp and any duly qualified driver can drive it without more ado.

It was agreed to have another meeting April 20, giving ample notice this time, to arrange to set up a "van committee" to act on any decisions, and to obtain a live-wire aggressive promoter, (or chairman may be a better word) to correlate any or all activities necessary to obtain funding. With the latter in mind it was revealed that the Happy Gang have been offered free use of the community hall in West Guilford should we wish to put on a dance and by the way that is already in the planning stage for April 25. A light snack of coffee, cheese and cookies was served after the meeting was over.

Tuesday morning June Devolin with her friend Joan Brown arrived to conduct Bible study. Her theme touched on Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem before the crucifixion riding an ass. This is the only mention of Jesus riding. For the whole of his mission he walked. During his brief he was bestowed with worship from all sides.

Later the ladies took a notion to bake something - Maude Weston, Christina McCrae, Vera Griffin, Norreen Stevens, Allan Macklin, Vivian Bowen, Myrtle Pritchard, Hazel Parish and Flossie Burk ended up with a chocolate cake that was not a success as a cake, but could be served as a pudding. They were still determined, so baked three carrot loaves which were sumptuous.

In the afternoon was bingo with a good number of helpers. - Helen Archer, Betty Wise and Bernice Ross and everything purred along smoothly. It seems no one lost or if they did nobody reported it to us. Pat Burk took this chance to catch up with other work. Ray Smith, spelled off by Allan Macklin, did the calling.

A good time was had at Locarno Wednesday where we went for dinner, a sumptuous meal as it turned out.

The writer and Christina McCrae were in Pat and Harry Woolley's car both ways. On the way we were curious to see a "nuthatch" sign that we presume is a bird sanctuary just off Highway #121. Jack Basset assures us that the monthly sessions will continue except in April, when he is taking his wife to Florida on a holiday, so it is understood that the next visit is to be May 13. If there is a bird sanctuary off 121 we would be pleased to know, by phone if that is easier. Other cars and their generous drivers were the Mightons taking Hazel Parish and Flossie Burk, - Jim Ward and his wife taking Jack Pollard and Norman Titus, Pat Burk taking Cheryl Athoe, John Sisson, Alice Hartle, Elsie Porter and Ron Pearson, not a bad party.

Florida had a frost a week or so before we went down and was reported 23 deg. F. at the same time reporting that some trees looked funny with icicles hanging from the oranges, but they further said that the fruit from those trees was unharmed, demonstrating a new frost preventive. The juices from all vegetation and their fruits have the same approximate salinity as sea water which has a freezing point about 4 or more degrees lower than water. To melt ice heat is added to it, but when the water freezes it gives off heat (called latent heat, about nine times more than the specific heat and an over all bonus). The heat given off prevents the fruits from freezing because it has that lower freezing point. Thus spraying the Florida fruit is much the same as putting the tree and fruit in a blanket. Spraying systems may become a must for any crop that suffers from frost damage. Have you ever noticed that strange balmy feeling you get in a snow storm? The polar ice caps have long been known for the blanketing of the earth.

Friday morning it was Pastor Roger Sauve of the Gooderham Pentecostal Church who guided our devotional period, bringing with him his guitar, an interesting message and his skill of voice and the piano keyboard. His subject was the adulterous woman whom the pharisees arrested and brought to Jesus for judgement, thinking they were playing a good trick, because the penalty was being stoned to death. To the pharisees Jesus bid the one who was without sin to case the first stone and no one did. To the woman Jesus said "I forgive you your sins but go and sin no more". We may similarly deal with our ho-ho-sexuals; it is not what they do that is objected to, but that they have chosen to display their views, views that everyone finds to be very distasteful and should be kept within the closet, not out.

Two movies were shown: 1.

A walk in the forest, an area that is a home to all creatures where they live together in harmony allowing for that predation that is always present. It is an area for the production of oxygen without which we cannot live, nor could motors move, and the production of energy, from the sun that has been in progress, millions, maybe billions of years. The film showed the vast quantities of debris that governments allow to accumulate as the main kindling of the dreaded forest fires, that will dry to tinder in a day or two. Those monstrous harvesters were not shown that destroy a swath at least 25 feet wide when they enter a forest, probably a notion of the politicians that monstrous is beautiful and a thing of beauty is a joy forever. 2. Showing a lady of 99 hale hearty and well met just like us residents except that she was determined not to lose her skills or any of her ability to cope. Her success in this rewarded her by making her the leading lady.

The spring equinox is coming up on March 20 at three minutes after noon and the perpendicular sun crosses the equator at the point where the longitude is zero. From then until the fall equinox the sun shines principally in the northern of our hemisphere. Meanwhile the leaves will come and then fall, but we will have enjoyed another summer.

We began another week of activity at Hyland Crest on Monday morning with a vigorous session of Fun & Fitness. The winner of the roll the ball game was Millie Wood. Millie is also pretty lucky at Bingo. It is nice to have Mrs. Knight back in our group after having major surgery. In the afternoon our craft room was filled with busy ladies working on their projects. The quilt is now completed and displayed at the front entrance. Tickets are on sale at the office. The draw will be held at the Strawberry tea in early July.

Several residents went to the auditorium to watch three very interesting films. A Holiday in Canada, was a colourful picture filmed in areas across Canada. We saw the changing of the guards in Ottawa and watched the beautiful Scottish Festival held in Nova Scotia. The residents enjoyed the Calgary Stampede most of all.

The Capital, Yesterday was filmed in Ottawa and told us the history of the city. We saw the beautiful old buildings which were built in 1804 and how they have been restored. It was interesting to note that the first inhabitants were Indians. The Welcome Sason showed us the beauty of New Brunswick.

Tuesday morning Chapel service was held by Bob McBrien of Minden Gospel Church. We enjoyed his message and also the music provided by Agnes Taylor and Barbara Trociewicz.

The bingo lovers gathered for a game in the main lounge later in the afternoon. In the evening we were entertained by Bill Payne and Bill Deacon played guitars. Norm Graham on the fiddle and Doris Robertson accompanying on the piano. A good time was had by all and our thanks to these people for a very enjoyable music night.

Wednesday evening, the students from Haliburton High School were here to assist in a very successful games night. Our residents look forward to the weekly games of cribbage, euchre, poker and crockinole.

The Maple Lake A.C.W. brought a delicious variety of home made goodies for the Thursday tea party. The ladies visited their many friends, and made it a very enjoyable afternoon for all our residents. Thank you girls for a lovely lunch.

Friday afternoon, it was a pleasure as always to welcome Grace Coburn and Fred Ballard to lead the weekly sing song.

Proper storage and cooking methods can save many nutrients in foods

from the Haliburton, Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit

Nutrient losses being when a food is harvested. Although many people feel that the food industry robs us of nutrients, extensive losses may occur at home in the kitchen - in the refrigerator, down the sink, or on top of the stove.

Because you want to serve the most nutritious food to your family, consider your methods of purchasing, storing, preparing and cooking foods. Proper cooking methods can preserve 90 per cent of the nutrients.

Some nutrients change very little in preparation. Vitamins and minerals are the nutrients of greatest concern as they can be easily destroyed by faulty home preparation. Generally, there is very little loss of the fat soluble vitamins A, D, E and K. However, vitamin C and B (especially thiamin) are easily destroyed. Precautions to retain them will usually preserve most other nutrients.

Shopping
- Buy fruit and vegetables

fresh when they're in season, or buy them frozen.

- Buy only as much as you need. Vegetables are perishable and over buying is wasteful.

- In general, don't look for bargains in fresh vegetables. Produce with bruising or breaks in the skin decay rapidly and develop off flavours. In the supermarket, handle produce carefully. - Don't buy frozen vegetables that have thawed or have torn packages.

Storage
- Meat should be properly wrapped to prevent freezer burn and nutrient loss.

- Examples of good materials for freezing includes heavy duty aluminum foil, durable

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

This is the week that spring is supposed to arrive, but Sunday afternoon when the people were heading for the arena, it sure felt like spring until one got inside. Anyone who missed "Toyland on Ice" presented by the Minden and Haliburton Figure Skating Clubs missed an entertaining display of talent by both clubs and the professional Mark Gignac certainly did an excellent job, especially with the beginners. The older skaters were excellent but as usual the small fry stole the show, because they were so determined and it was funny to watch the expression on their faces as they concentrated so hard in their performances. Sure there were falls but watching figure skating on TV, tells you even the excellent skaters fall. What I liked was the fact that each and everyone showed true sportsmanship by continuing until the end even after a fall.

When the young folk of these two clubs can coordinate and work together in a carnival such as this; so should the adults.

The winners of the 2nd chance draws were at Stedman's - Ross Walker and at Mac's - Jeanne Sears.

Those who have much are often greedy; those who have little always share.

Winners at the mini card party last Thursday afternoon were for cribbage - Dick Cummings and Ethel Leigh. Euchre - lone hands, Betty Harper on a cut; Alice Sedgwick and Harry MacMinn.

There will be no card party this week because of the election but the mini's will resume on March 26.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dollo and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dollo are attending the IGA convention in Hawaii this week.

"Beans and Macaroni

Casserole" - 1 cup small white beans; 1 cup uncooked macaroni, 1/2 cup chopped onion; 1/2 cup chopped sweet pepper; 2 cups tomato juice; 1 tsp. salt; 1/2 tsp. black pepper; 1/4 tsp. dry mustard; 1 tsp. sugar; 1/2 tsp. garlic salt if desired. Soak beans overnight, drain; cover with cold water and cook until fork tender. Cook the macaroni. Brown the onion and sweet pepper in fat for 5 minutes, add tomato juice and seasonings, beans and drained macaroni. Turn into a greased casserole and bake uncovered 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stamp, Jason and Mrs. Arnold Coulter spent the weekend with the Ray Rivers family at Downsview.

The mintage of wisdom is to know that rest is rest; and that real life is love, laughter and work.

The Kin spring conference was held at Cobourg on the weekend and 15 Kinsmen and Kinettes attended from the Minden clubs and all had a busy time. Larry Amyotte was elected deputy governor for Zone C and Margaret Prentice became Kinette co-ordinator for Zone C. John Pentney was elected Kin co-ordinator and Jerry Walker was made historian and sports ward chairman. Congratulations to all but from the sound of things both Larry, who has 13 clubs to visit during the year and Margaret, who has 10 clubs to visit, will be kept very busy.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Hughes and girls from Mississauga visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes over the weekend. Don't forget that Thursday afternoon March 26 may be your last chance to skate this spring. Minden nursery play school are sponsoring this skating party from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Michael Hickey family from Powassan visited in the village on the weekend.

The Hyland Crest Auxiliary card party was well attended last week and winners were for euchre - lone hands - Doris Robertson; high - Isobel Harrison; bridge - Gerry Haywood; cribbage - Carrie Drysdale and Ray Cox was the winner of the draw for a box of groceries.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson of Carnarvon who had their 49th wedding anniversary on the weekend.

The Reg Cowen family of Phelpsston visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cox and other relatives on the weekend.

We call a child's mind "small" simply from habit; perhaps it is larger than ours, for it can take in almost anything without effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandon are home after their holiday in the south.

Hold April 2 open for the annual card party being held at St. Paul's Parish Hall at 8 p.m. for the foster child. Cribbage, euchre and bridge will be played. More later on this.

Eleanor Addison and daughters of Scarborough visited with Mrs. John Hewitt over the weekend.

The young have aspirations that never come to pass; the old have reminiscences of what never happened.

Colin Hewitt of Toronto and Fred Hewitt of Scarborough spent the weekend with their mother, Mrs. Ernie Hewitt.

Hear ye, hear ye, on March 28 starting at 8 p.m. there will be a benefit dance at Minden community centre with D.J. Tommy Williamson. This dance is to help the Jim Todd family who lost their home recently. More details next week.

Inflation is the price we pay for those government benefits everybody thought were free; but don't forget to vote anyway for if you don't vote, don't grumble.

PineStone Inn, last Monday afternoon.

Sincere sympathy is extended at this time to family and friends of Roy Farrow who passed away last week. Roy was a cousin to Bill Stata of Kinmount and at one time, Roy was a resident of Kinmount also.

Mary and Jim Gillis of Galway Road received a phone call from the Dyer family in England announcing the christening of the Jr. Dyer. Mary and Jim were Godparents by proxy about a month ago and about May first, now that grandpa Dick is feeling better, the whole family should be arriving at the home of Mary and Jim for a few weeks' stay. Welcome to Dick and Olive Dyer, Ken, Carol and baby Dyer and all the best in life to you, James Allan Richard Dyer.

About ten of us attended a Lenten bible study at St. James Hall last Wednesday

After a month's holiday Bob Nimigon came back to A.R.C. on March 2. He went to Florida where it was very warm with temperatures in the 70's and 80's. Bob went to Disney World and saw Goofy and Mickey Mouse. He also went on a train ride, a roller-coaster ride and went swimming in the ocean. He went to the Everglades and went on a riverboat ride, and a submarine ride. After the he went to a game reserve and saw hippos, elephants, giraffes, antelope, and zebras. The last stop was Cape Canaveral, where he saw the latest in spaceships. Bob brought us back a grapefruit and a cone.

I went on a work day burning brush in Eagle Lake on Tuesday.

Robert McLagan, our director, went to a meeting in Peterborough on Wednesday.

Many thanks for the anonymous donation of a brand new lawnmower to A.R.C. Industries. This will enable us to better serve our lawn contract customers.

On Monday, February 9 our director, Robert McLagan went to a Tri-County meeting in Peterborough.

On Thursday night we had our annual meeting. We had to get some of our toys together and put them on display.

Two new people have joined us - Carol Lefebvre and Karen Keller - and we now have 13 employees.

For the last eight days

Wilberforce News

Mrs. Amy Watson was the hostess to the monthly U.C.W. meeting last week. Minutes of the last meeting were read and the president presented a poem "Praise the Lord". Marion Barclay had prepared material for a debate on the topic of "lack of life support" and this was discussed by members in two groups. A letter of appreciation from Mr. Waterhouse was read.

The annual presbytery meeting of the U.C.W. members will be held in Fenelon Falls on March 30. The ladies are looking forward to a very busy summer schedule with upcoming weddings to cater to and a Board of Education luncheon that takes place in June. Sally Mather showed the progress being made on the Centennial quilt. There is also some planning to be done for the Centennial dinner which takes place this year. The meeting drew to a close with a prayer of St. Patrick. Gracious hostess Amy Watson then served a lovely lunch.

The Red Cross Association would like everyone to note that the annual Red Cross Campaign that usually takes place this month has been postponed until June this year.

Many people will be pleased to learn that the Laundromat has resumed operation and will be open to the public Friday, Saturday and Mondays from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Wilberforce had a visit from Art Field last week. Mr. Field is the NDP member for this area. He was invited to have lunch with the Senior Citizen group that meets each Tuesday afternoon. In the evening he attended a meeting at one of the homes for a period of questions and answers.

The population of Wilberforce over the weekend must have jumped to a thousand judging by the number of cars seen around the arena, the Memorial Centre and the Curling rink. Hockey was the main attraction as the boys arrived from Scarborough to test the skill of our minor hockey teams. The Wilberforce Atoms and PeeWees provided splendid opposition as they soundly trounced the visitors. However, it was the Bantams who covered themselves with glory by first taking part in the Minden Bantam B Tournament and winning all three games and the coveted trophy and then returning to Wilberforce in the evening to beat their Scarborough rivals.

Our novice team was not so lucky but showed plenty of spirit and everyone enjoyed the encounter. All players received crests of the event. The Scarborough boys were billeted locally. A return match will be coming up shortly.

Another good hockey game known as a grudge match took place between the Wilberforce Veneer players and those from Curv Ply in Orono. The proceeds from this event were donated to minor hockey.

Over at the curling rink a bonspiel was taking place with rinks from Bancroft, Egansville and Minden. After some tense games the winning rink was that of Dean Patterson of Bancroft, second Steve McAlpine of Bancroft, third was Fred Berning of Wilberforce and fourth Chuck Lindsay of Egansville and fifth Dick Towle of Bancroft. Those Bancroft men must be great curlers.

There was a fair attendance at the Saturday night St. Patrick's dance held in the Memorial centre and sponsored by the Recreation com-

"Experience does all of her teaching backwards; she gives a test before explaining the lesson."

Mrs. Mary Graham received a gift in the mail but with no name of the donor. It was an Irish button to wear on St. Patrick's day and Mary appreciated it and would like to express her thanks to whoever sent it.

The open house held by the Dorset Senior Club at the Rideout Community Centre last Thursday was well attended with several dignitaries attending. John Eakins, M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton was present, reeve of Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone, Fred Baum and his wife Gina, Mayor of Lake of Bays, Malcolm Scott and councillor Murray McEachern. There were also a couple of representatives from the Frost Centre, Herb Curnow, business administrator and Steve Williams, planning and management supt. Of course, there was plenty of food and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

There is a mixed Georgian College course starting at the seniors centre, beginning the 8th of April, the first session being on wills and estates, presented by a local lawyer. Then there are two sessions

There will be a maple syrup day at the Frost Centre on Saturday, March 21. This was originally planned for April 4 but due to the early sap flowing season, this had to be moved up. There will be an explanation of the sugar bush operation, snowshoe making, wood as energy and the art of handling trapped animals by a local trapper. A pancake lunch will be served with home-made maple syrup at a price of $2 for adults.

The W.A. of the Guides and Brownies are holding a maple syrup back sale in the administration building in conjunction with the event. Baked goods made with maple syrup or to be eaten with maple syrup will be for sale. Activities begin about 9:30 and run through to 3 p.m.

H.H. Eliminate excess fat from soups or stew by dropping ice cubes into the pot. The fat will cling to them as you stir. Or wrap ice cubes in cheese cloth or paper towels and skim over the top.

plastic films, laminated freezer paper, plastic freezer bags, glass canning jars, plastic cartons and baking dishes. When using jars and cartons leave space for expansion of food.

- Freeze food at -20 degrees C. (0 degrees F.) or below.
- Store foods for no longer than three months in a refrigerator freezer compartment.
- For maximum vitamin retention, canned fruits and vegetables should be stored in a cool place. They can be stored for one year.
- To minimize light destruction of the B vitamins, riboflavin and pyridoxine (vitamin B6), legumes (dried peas and beans) should be stored in dark jars or in the refrigerator.
- The riboflavin in milk can be protected by avoiding exposure to light.
- Vegetables should be stored in plastic bags or crispers in the refrigerator. Don't wash or trim the produce before storing.
- The vitamin C in citrus fruit and juice is well retained. Fresh, frozen and canned orange juice can be held covered in the refrigerator for several days before any loss.
- Potatoes, onions, etc. should be stored in a cool place. Potatoes should be stored in a dark place or opaque bag since when exposed to light, then often turn green due to the chlorophyll in the tuber. Cut off green spots when preparing. If there are several very green potatoes in the bag, return it to the store.

Preparation

- Frozen vegetables should not be thawed before cooking.
- Fresh vegetables should be prepared just prior to cooking as slicing, peeling, and scraping damage the cells and reduce vitamin content.
- Do not cut vegetables into small pieces as this will cause vitamins to leach into cooking water.
- A dull knife may mash cells, resulting in increased nutrient loss.
- The practice of crisping vegetables in cold water causes leaching of vitamins.
- As much as possible, cook vegetables in their skins, which act as a natural barrier to nutrient leaching. Scrubbing can replace peeling.
- Pre-soaking of dried beans results in leaching of vitamins. An easy alternative is to boil the beans for two minutes, allow to set for one hour, and then cook as normal. This method is as good as a fifteen hour pre-soak.
- Avoid washing grains such as rice before cooking as this practice will send nutrients down the drain. As much as 18 per cent of thiamin can be lost in this way.
- Thawing meat may result in loss of protein, B vitamins, and minerals in the discarded juices, especially with chopped, cubed, and organ meats. Cook stored meats from the frozen state and use the cooking juices in gravies and soups.

Cooking

- Steaming vegetables in a basket prevents loss of nutrients. As an alternative, use only enough water to prevent pan scorching and bring the water to a boil before adding the fresh or frozen vegetable. Cover the pot when cooking and steaming vegetables. Don't overcook; the vegetables are ready when tender.
- Never add baking soda to cooking vegetables as this causes loss of thiamin and vitamin C.
- Broiling, oven or pot cooking of meat results in 60 per cent to 80 per cent retention of thiamin and better retention of the other B vitamins. Adding water (braising and stewing) increases nutrient loss into the water, so use the water for sauce or gravy.
- nutrient retention in meat with microwave cooking is the same as conventional cooking methods. Microwave cooking of vegetables causes less destruction of vitamin C than pressure cooking or boiling.
- Holding at warm temperatures or reheating vegetables cause losses.

- Use the nutrient rich cooking water from vegetables for soups, stews, and sauces.

stick of Shane McKelvey. Four minutes and nine seconds into the period, the lumbermen regained a two goal lead on a shot by Brian Mullholland. But as the final minutes wound down, Home Hardware's hard skating offense ground down the lumbermen, forcing them to give up three unanswered goals.

Scoring for the hardware squad were McKelvey, Ted Vasey and Jim Wynn.

Home Hardware hung on in the final two minutes to win 5-4 and take the Haliburton County Echo trophy.

In the championship final,

Rockcliffe Hotel outskated Floyd Hall Insurance and roared to a 10-6 victory.

The insurance team scored first, as Larry Vick found the mark at 2:02. Dave Brown answered for the hotel squad a little over six minutes later to round out the first period scoring.

In the second period, Floyd Hall moved into the lead on a goal by Pete Latman, the Rockcliffe squad came back to tie on a marker by John Barkwell, and the insurance team moved back into the lead as Latman got his second goal.

The third period was a net mind's nightmare, as a total of 12 goals were recorded in 15 minutes of stop time action.

The hotel team came out flying in the opening minutes, netting three goals, off the sticks of Larry Sawyer, Lee Bull and Dave Brown before the insurance team could answer with a goal by Latman.

their relentless assault on the mesh, however, netting three more in quick succession, from Bill Hogg, Brown and Sawyer. Steve Davies got another for the insurance team, but Roger Bain and Barkwell tallied another two for the Rockcliffe squad to make it 9-5 in their favour.

In the final minute of the game the teams traded goals, as Dean Hewitt connected for Floyd Hall and Barkwell got another for the hotel men with just 10 seconds left on the clock.

The win earned the Kinsmen trophy for the Rockcliffe Hotel team.

Players on the winning team also received a year's subscription to the Echo, courtesy of the newspaper.

When you're in construction, form follows function.
Ask Mario.

He fills out the UI Record of Employment perfectly every time an employee parts company.

When you're in good company, stay in good form. Mario handles personnel and finance matters for his brother's construction company. And he knows that one of his responsibilities is to fill out a UI Record of Employment form every time an employee has an interruption in earnings. He knows that if he doesn't get it right the first time, he may have to do it again. So Mario took the time to get the booklet "How to Complete the Record of Employment" from his nearby Canada Employment Centre.

Leaving in good form.

The Record of Employment is one way we can make sure no one gets short-changed and no one gets overpaid. This saves time and money for everyone involved. Mario found out that the most common mistake is in reporting the "Insurable Earnings". Insurable earnings are not necessarily the same as payroll earnings. Because Mario fills out the ROE accurately, ex-employees don't have to come back to him for changes. And neither do we.

It's just good business to be in good form.

At Unemployment Insurance, we process about 4,000,000 Records of Employment every year. Last year, employer mistakes in filling out the form cost at least $125,000,000 in overpayments. Plus the cost of recovering those overpayments and penalizing or prosecuting.

We're out to cut down that $125,000,000. And we're going to do it, together.
